EXPLANATORY.

In the counting of time, all dates between 1600 and 1700, ten days must be carried forward, and between 1700 and 1752, eleven days added to that. In 1752, the British Parliament made Sept. 3rd Sept. 14th, so that all dates prior to that do not correspond with those of to-day.

+—Indicates continuation of this line.

M. H.—Meeting House.

Unm.—Unmarried.

b.—Born.

d.—Died.

Removal Ctf.—A certificate given by the "Friends" when one of their number left their community for another.

Clear—Used by the "Friends" for unmarried.

EXAMPLE.

If you wish to find Halstead H. Frost, look for his name in the index, and turn to the page, where his name is found in large type. On that page you will find him numbered, 1012, and named as the son of number 325. Turn back to number 325, where it appears against a name in large type, and you will find Edward L. Frost, son of Caleb No. 80, and so on back to the pioneer William Frost.

INTRODUCTION.

About five years ago I almost unknowingly commenced this work by asking a few questions in a community which for upwards of two hundred years consisted quite exclusively of members of the "Society of 'Friends'" and their descendants; and, being a New England woman born and bred, the facts of ancestry and history brought out in the replies to my questions so interested me that I was led on, step by step, with deepening ardor through musty old records, Registries of Probate and Deeds, town and parish annals and old family documents (many of which verified doubtful traditions), until in my enthusiasm I decided to compile and preserve for all time for those by the name of Frost, and those of Frost descent, all the available facts and data relative to at least one pioneer whose descendants belonged to and were prominent in the community above referred to,—and which data seemed likely otherwise to be forever lost through the passing away of the older members of the family, with their reminiscences unrecorded.

For fully one hundred years, dating from the time of the grandchildren of William Frost, the pioneer, there was hardly a marriage outside the "Society of Friends" recorded; and to-day many of his descendants still cling to the faith of their fathers, and indeed retain in many customs the ways and habits of this fast-disappearing delightful folk.

In the compilation of this work I have become most gratefully indebted to many friends and relatives, representing various lines of Frost ancestry. Among those to whom I feel most obligated for help and inspiration are the following: Mr. George W. Cocks of Glen Cove, Long Island; Miss Fanny Frost of Trumansberg, New York; Mr. Halstead H. Frost of East Norwich, Long Island; Mr. Frank Haviland of Holliston, Mass.; Mr. Eduardo Haviland Hillman, of London, England; Mrs. Rosa Frost Pecke of Mariaville, New York; Mr. Floyd Smith of Brooklyn, New York; Mr. Frank Townsend of Brewster, New York.

There is no pretense to literary form or style in this book. It is a family record strictly along genealogical (not biographical) lines, its aim and only claim to value being the truthful, concise statements of descent and relationship. The compilation and editing has been a serious labor, but it has been a great pleasure as well. I relinquish my pen with keen regret, feeling that my work is far from complete and falls short of realizing my ideal of what a genealogy should be; but hoping even so that it may be a foundation upon which some future student, or member of the family with the inclination for research, may build, correcting my errors and solving my problems.

With this brief outline of my aim and purpose, my manuscript is submitted to the Frost family, those gone before and to come, as well as the readers of the present day.

Very cordially yours,

JOSEPHINE C. FROST.

THE FROST GENEALOGY.

CHRONOLOGY OF MENTION OF FROST NAME.

The name Frost is a very common one in the north of Germany, and it was probably taken to England by the Angles who settled on the south and east shores of the island, where the name has been preserved mostly in Norfolk, Suffolk, and Essex on the east, and in Devonshire and Hampshire on the south.

1042-1066, in Domesday Book Frost held lands.

1160-1180, Robto and Waltero Frost, Charters of Gilbertine Monastery at Sempringham, Lincoln.

1269, Gilbertus Frostenden, Suffolk County.

1272-1307, frequent mention in Hundred Rolls of Edward the First.

1327-1377, John Frost "enfranchised" as chaplain.

The King Edward III issues a summons to a large number of gentlemen to meet him in council on the next Monday after Quadragesima Sunday at Westminster to deliberate with regard to important and urgent affairs touching his honor, and the safety and welfare of the Kingdom. Among those summoned is "Waltero Frost," Feb. 20, 1340.

A letter of protection from King Edward to Chevalier Thomas Fichet who is about to accompany Edward, Prince of Wales, to parts beyond the seas. Among the number of gentlemen whose names are appended is "Williemus Frost." Dated, Westminster, Aug. 18, 1359.

March 1, 1363, the King issues letters, certifying that by the assent of the prelates, lords and others, the "fair" for clothes and other merchandise going out of the Kingdom of England, Wales, Ireland and Scotland, shall be held at City of Calais and that twenty-six English merchants shall be chosen, two to be Mayors, and twenty-four to be Aldermen. Among these names appear one of "Thomas Frost."

King Edward III grants to Walter Frost and others all dues payable by vessels trading on the Humber, the Trent and the Ouse, down to the port of Southampton, from Sabbath next to the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, until otherwise ordered. Westminster, May 16, 1370.

1389, Peter Frost, on committee to award land to a college; he is of the "clerics."

1449, Bartholomew Frost, Mayor of Thetford.

1509, Nov. 21, Wm. Frost had been a keeper of Leskard Park, Cornwall.

1510, Feb. 22, Wm. Frost appointed one of "Commissioners of the Peace" for Hampshire.

1510, Sept. 26, Wm. Frost appointed on a special Commission to enquire into a murder case.

1510, Dec. 15, again appointed "Commissioner of the Peace" for Hampshire.

1511, July 18, appointed one of the Commissioners of Array for Hants.

1512, March 15, appointed Commissioner of the Peace for Hants.

1513, June 3, the same.

1514, Jan. 24, the same.

1512, May 13, appointed for the Goal delivery for Winchester.

1517, May 28, appointed Commissioner for Hants to enquire what houses, buildings, towns and hamlets have been destroyed since March 4th. How much land has been converted into pasture; the number of parks since enclosed, etc.

1518, Oct. 30, Fox, Bishop of Winchester, writing to Cardinal Woolsey, says: "In conformity with Woolsey's desire that the Bishop shall upon his honor certify him by letters, in a case then before him in chancery, of his right touching enclosures of arable land contrary to the statutes, he states that before Michaelmas last, he caused enquiries to be made by his Steward and others and they have certified that these inquirers found against him untrue, and though the Bishop has not personally viewed the land surmised to be enclosed, he believes the certificates correct. His steward, William Frost, 'is a sad, substantial and faithful man and well learned in the law.'"

Among the Lansdowne manuscripts in the British Museum, Bundle 92, No. 76, is the following:

"1611. Mr. William Frost, a musician, humbly requests Lord Salisbury to be allowed to teach the Princess Elizabeth to play on the virginals in place of Mr. Marchant, deceased."

Matinecock as a local designation, according to Mr. Wm. Wallace Tooker, than whom I know no higher authority on the etymology of the language of the aborigines, is a purely descriptive term, signifying a "Hill-country" or the "Land that overlooks," the aptness of which will be recognized when the bounds of the territory are shown. It originally comprised all the northern part of the Township of Oyster Bay extending from the Sound to the "Ridge of Hills" so called. The first attempt at a settlement of Matinecock appears to have been made in 1661 by Thomas Terry and Samuel Dering under an agreement with the Town of Hempstead, in which they had "liberty to settle themselves and some others of their friends upon a parcel of ground on the Northside of the Island, on the East side of our Harbour, on the South side of the Harbour Hill and by an East line as far as our bounds go, and so down to the North Sea; engaging themselves to submit to the jurisdiction of Hempstead and not to bring in any Quakers to be inhabitants among us." Terry being unable to complete his arrangements within the two years given him for settlement applied for and received an extension of time and it was then agreed he might "settle seven families thereupon as soon as convenience will suffer." No record appears showing the date of settlement of the "Seven Families," but it must have been by or before 1664, at which date Tackapousha and other Indians brought complaints before Governor Nichols, that they had not sold Matinecock to Hempstead. On being confronted with record proof that they had, then alleged that they had not been paid for all the land and that the pay received was so little to be divided among the many parties interested—It was adjudged in the Council that Hempstead's title to all of Matinecock was defective, but that the English that were then seated on the said Matinecock lands were under no pretence to be mo-tested or disturbed. And the Governor wrote to Capt. John Underhill, "It is not that I give very much credit to what they (the Indians) say but for quietness sake and to prevent all future contests, I do recommend that you agree among yourselves to give ye Indians some gift or gratuity in requital, since they say they have never received any pay for the land." Pursuant to this recommendation, negotiations were concluded by which at Kelenworth on 22d day of June, 1667, the Indian Proprietors Aseton, Arumpas, Seahor, Nothe, Soometamok, Shoskeene and Matares executed deeds conveying to Robert Williams, William Hudson, William Simson, Henry Reddock, Christopher Hawxhurst, Matthew Prior and Nathan Birdsall each a specified tract of upland and an undivided one-seventh interest in the adjacent salt meadows, together with a right of commonage of grassing and timber in the unallotted part of the whole tract. This is very quaintly described in an agreement between the representatives of the township at large and those of the proprietors under the Seven Purchase Deeds, to wit—

"We do agree and consent yt our Neighbours now Inhabiting Killingworth upon Matinecock, shall have ye privilege to purchase all ye lands yt yet lies to purchase upon Matinecock Neck lyng on ye North side of ye Footpath between Oyster Bay and Musketa Cove by ye way of ye Sho so called and to possess it from any claim of ye Town, as their other lands they now improve, which said Footpath shall be their limits or bounds Southward."

In the location of the several allotments of upland Robert Williams had "The Easter most of the two Matinecock Islands so called" some time earlier than this known as Mentalear Island and subsequently Woolsey's Island and Butler's Island when owned respectively by Rev. Benjamin Woolsey and Mr. John Butler, now known as East Island, the residence of Mr. Morgan.

Williams also had a small allotment of four acres on the mainland about where the Price Mansion stands, which with enlarged bounds came into the possession of one Daniel Whitehead; he gave it to his daughter Mary who m. John Taylor, and he dying intestate it passed to his only child—Abigail who became as per record the wife of the Rev. Benjamin Woolsey, Dissenting Protestant Presbyterian Minister, who, it is believed, called the estate "Dos uxoris" literally the "wife's dowry" modified in current usage to Dosoris.

William Hudson's allotment seems to have been some part of the farm of the late Dr. James C. Townsend, which he (Hudson) assigned to Aaron Forman, Jr., and then removed to New Jersey.

William Simson, from whom the creek now known as Frost Creek was named—had his house lot by the side of Dayton's Swamp, northeast of the Frost family burial place and another lot on which the house and outbuildings of the late Valentine Frost stood, both of which were assigned to William Frost in 1674, and the name of Simson disappears from the record.

Henry Reddocke, the next in order, came from Rhode Island where he had been the Town Clerk of Warwick. He had two lots on east side of the road northward from Davis' corner past the residence of Wm. C. Townsend and extending northward to the woodland formerly Mrs. Phebe Weeks now Judge Lovett. Henry Reddocke died about 1674 and the property passed to two sons-in-law, Joseph and Samuel Weeks. Only a small remnant of which surrounding and adjacent to the little "Burial Place" yet remains in the name.

Christopher Hawxhurst's lot came next eastward from Reddocke's with the same north and south bounds, and the residence, on north side of the road through Locust Valley, late owned by Charles Wansor. Hawxhurst also came from Rhode Island, and had married a daughter of Henry Reddocke.

Matthew Prior an English Quaker coming hither from Setanket with a remarkably interesting history had the next allotment, east of and parallel with that of Hawxhurst. After the third generation of this family the name disappears from the local records.

Nathan Birdsall had the seventh lot, and his dwelling, with that of his sons Stephen and Henry was, without much doubt, on the site of that recently owned by Mr. Jacacci.

Adjacent to the Birdsall lot on the East was another lot of Matthew Prior, sold in 1678 to his son-in-law John Underhill, son of the great Indian fighter Capt. John Underhill, on which it is believed the younger John built some part of the house still standing on the site and now occupied by Mr. Cutcheon. North of the Prior second lot was a tract with salt meadows on east and west and extending north to a "neuk" of meadows between it and the beach, bought of the Indians in 1669 by James Cock and occupied by his descendants for more than two hundred and thirty years.

South of the Priar second lot was a tract of two hundred and fifty acres given by the Indians to Capt. John Underhill who, after exterminating some hundreds of them, seems to have brought the remnant "to heel" and became their adviser in the contest with Hempstead about the payment for their lands. Capt. John Underhill came to Matinecock as Deputy Sheriff and Surveyor of the Customs in an endeavor to break up the smuggling then rife in the harbors on the north side of Long Island especially at Oyster Bay and Musketa Cove.

Accompanying him came his young brother-in-law John Feke, the son of Lieut. Robert Feake and Bess Fones, the widow of Henry Winthrop, and it appears that he gave to young Feke the southeast part of the tract received from the Indians, on which Feke built and reared a family of considerable note, the last representatives of which in this vicinity are Mrs. Thomas F. Underhill and Miss Eline A. Feeks.

Contemporaneous with the Seven Purchasers on Killingworth upon Matinecock, other than those already noted, there were Richard and Josias Laften, William Frost, John Coles, Samuel Dayton, Edmund Wright, John Dyer, John Robins, John Davis, Joseph Eastland, Samuel Tillear, Auron Forman, Jr., Henry Bell, and Lawrence Mott, but with the exception of the Lattens, Frost, and Forman all had removed from hence before the close of the century.

Killingworth, the naming of which has been heretofore attributed by sundry so-called historians to Capt. John Underhill as given in honorable remembrance of his English home at Kenilworth; but I am unable to get any proof that the family were seated at or near Kenilworth, but to the contrary Capt. John's father and mother were of Wolverhampton. It seems to me more probable, that, as there was a Killingworth in Connecticut from whence some members of the Frost family migrated to Matinecock, there might be more reason to believe that the name came from such source than otherwise.

Corn Creek, mentioned in early records as the south bounds of the second Priar lot and north bounds of the Underhill gift, still holds its name although interrupted in its course by the dam to form the Factory pond built by one John Underhill, about 1820, to supply power for a woolen factory to operate which several English families were brought over.

Kantuck, the popular name for the picturesque region south of the Feke property was doubtless a term in the Indian tongue descriptive of the topography of the locality. Here again I may quote Mr. Tooker giving the interpretation of "tuck" as a "tidal stream, creek or river" and suggesting the name "Kantuck" to be a modification of "qua-qua-nantuck" meaning a shallow marshy creek.

Papa-quatunk River, as noted in the record of the "Oyster Bay First Purchase" as its western boundary, was the earliest mentioned name of the stream bridged by the railroad near the Mill Neck Station. Mr. Tooker writes that this name seems to have been the designation of a tract bordering on a brook where the Indians lived or had been living.

This view is corroborated by a quotation from the earliest book of Oyster Bay records to wit "Francis Weekes hath one House with a home Lot bounded upon the Hollow Southwest [being the late Cashow Place]. He hath moreover ten acres of planting land at the bottom of the Indian field bounded East by Sagamore Hill and the River on the West side."

This Sagamore Hill is just east of and above the Mill Neck R. R. Station. In the way of restitution permit me here to say that the territory generally known as Mill Neck was not so called by reason of the mill on the west side thereof built in 1694 by Henry Townsend, Jr., John Feckes of Matinecock, and Samuel and William Birdsall, but so named from the stream running down from Norwich through the Mill River Hollow to the Townsend Mill at Oyster Bay established about 1660 on the east side of the Neck.

Roger's Canoe Hollow was on the north end of the Mill River Neck down by the shore of the part of the creek above the Bridge called the "Gut." Here it is supposed that Roger, one of the Indian Proprietors, laid his canoe up for the winter.

Beaver Swamp River as a local designation succeeded to Papa-quatunk River, applying as far north as Stephen's Point, the northwest end of the Mill River Neck, and southerly up the valley as Beaver Brook and Beaver Swamp Hollow now known as Brookville. This ancient settlement was at one time called "Wolverhampton" by Daniel and Abraham Underhill in remembrance of the seat of the Underhill family in old England. This euphonious designation being evidently unpopular, it would seem that by a process of combination and partial elimination of Wolverhampton and Beaver Swamp Hollow, there was effected a resultant name of "Wolver Hollow," which persisted until about sixty years ago when the utilitarian sentiment of the day directed a change to Brookville in honor of the intermittent stream which, rising at about Suscoe's Wigwam, meanders down the valley finally to unite with Beaver Brook, the headwaters of the Mill Neck Club Preserves.

Suscoe's or Suckscall's Wigwam was on the east side of the road through the Hollow on property formerly known as the Maybee Place, being adjacent to a collection of living springs some time during English occupation reserved for public use as a watering place for the people of the town. The Wigwam was probably one of the "winter houses" constructed for use of several families under one roof with common use of fire and conveniences. Their summer residences were probably detached and portable, located near the salt water as evidenced by the remains of their bivalve feasts.

The Shu, Shoo, Shoe as we know it by varied orthography was at a point on the Beaver Swamp River where the ancient path from the Town to Matinecock or Musketa Cove crossed the stream, shown now by a little island in the midst of the pond opposite the Mill Neck clubhouse. The appellation is supposed to derive from the following names conditions, to wit: The stream which reaching this point had been running north-easterly then changes to northwesterly with considerable increase of declivity thus creating a situation known on other rivers as a "Chute or Shute."

Isaac Horner was granted by ye Town in 1677-8 and again in 1684-5 ye privilege of ye stream at ye Beaver Swamp by ye Sho, so called, to set up a Fulling Mill &c., &c. Sundry other adventurers made further improvements, also John Dewsbury built a brick house and, failing in business, merited the remonstrance of his Quaker brethren because of "his outrunning in extravagancy."

MATINECOCK MEETING HOUSE
Oyster Bay, N. Y.
Bull 1725

Samuel Birdsall in 1695 purchased the northerly part of the Horner Grant and erected another mill which was in later times known as George Frost's and still later as Silas Cock's Mill.

Kantuck Mills were built before 1800, the upper one, being a saw mill, by the Hawxhurst Family, and the lower, a grist mill, by Samuel Cock, Jr.

Indian John Rumpus lived on what was called his island in the midst of the swamp which by that time was known as Shu Swamp. He was supposed to be a descendant of the Arumpas whose name appears on the Seven Purchase Deeds.

The Piping Rock is on the north side of the footway from the town to Musketa Cove by way of the Shu, so called, situate at or near the southeast corner of Mr. Pate's property and just opposite to the entrance of what was formerly Isaac Thorne's Lane. In none of the sundry appearances of the phrase on the town records as "the piping Rock is there any clue to the derivation or meaning, but in one rendering as "the pipe and tree Rock" there seems to be possible ground for the tradition that here the Indians and the settlers smoked the "pipe of peace."

Matinecock Meeting House was built in 1725, and the Burying Place established the same year. Friends' meetings had been previously held at the houses of Matthew Priar, James Cock and John Feke.

Littleworth old Footpath appears at the south end of the road from the Piping Rock to Shoo Brook, being part of the Indian trail from the Town to Littleworth on Hempstead Harbor via Mill Hill, Planting Fields, etc., through a picturesque ravine which the Piping Rock association have recently repaired and opened for use.

Littleworth is on east side of Hempstead Harbor being a tract within the original Musketa Cove Purchase which the Indians resold to Richard Kirby, George Downing, Jacob Brooking and Robert Godfree. The origin of the name is unknown unless it be a modification of Lutterworth. It is now a part of Sea Cliff and in consideration of the earlier and later desire for the ownership of the property the name seems rather paradoxical.

Musketa Cove was not so called by reason of any unusual prevalence at that place of the genus Culex, which is said to be so annoying to some of its neighbors, but takes it from a descriptive term in the Indian tongue signifying "Grassy Flats" evidenced in the salt meadows below the site of the old starch factory, in the name of Muscoota in Harlem Flats, at the Muscoot Reservoir, in upper Westchester County, and the Musketaguid River at Concord, Mass. But the implication carried in the name convinced the natives in 1834 that a change would be advantageous, so the town was rechristened Glen Cove.

Buckram, as a designation of the territory now known as Locust Valley, first appears of record in 1730 as applied to the lot next west of John Bayles, and persisted until 1856, in which year a neighborhood meeting called for the purpose, changed the name of the Post Office to Locust Valley. The reasons for which were the detrimental character of the ancient name and the peculiar propriety of the one proposed, because of the abundance hereabouts of the noble tree, Robinia Pseudacacia commonly called "Locust" which, by the way, was not indigenous to Long Island the first seeds or saplings having been brought hither from Virginia by Captain John Sands about 1700. Not having learned of any more credible theory of the origin of the use of the name Buckram in this locality, I will venture to suggest that it was a modification of "Buckingham," a town in the County of Norfolk, England, where it is shown in Blomefield's History that sundry members of the Cock family held landed estates and official positions in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. Now about 1730 there were resident in this vicinity Hezekiah Cock, ancestor of Hon. Townsend D. Cock, and John Cock, whose dwelling and store was on the site of the present residence of John Bayles, and they being grandsons of our immigrant ancestor James Cock, it is within the bounds of probability that they may have used the name in remembrance of an ancestral home in Old England.

Chagechagon or Chagon Swamp was the designation of the valley appearing on the records both before and after the use of Buckram.

The brook of the same name has its first appearance above ground south of the Fitzhugh Smith Place, and with occasional subterraneous excursions winds its way down the Valley and falls into Kantuck. This name is doubtless in some way connected with Chagechagon, alias Quaropin, one of the "Chief Proprietors" of land upon Matinecock whose signature often appears in conveyances to the English.

The earliest of the Highways in old Matinecock seems to have been that of "Feke's Lane," first opened for use under an agreement between John Feke, and Steven and Henry Birdsall, John Priar, William Hawxhurst and Samuel and Joseph Weeks wherein John Feke ceded to the other parties all right, title and interest he had in a piece of land between the Rere (or south end) of their lots and Chagechagon Brook and promised to warrant and defend by virtue of a Deed made by ye Indians to Capt. John Underhill &c. &c. In return the other parties grant to John Feke an open two rod road "cross our Lotts." This was regularly laid out in 1730 by Joseph Dickinson and Samuel Macoune, to begin at the head or west end of Feake's Lane, so called, or at Watinecock Road and to run as ye way now goes, two (2) Rods wide unto ye said Feake's Mill thence to Oyster Bay as ye way now goes by ye house of Absalom Townsend between ye Clefts to ye Beach and so along shore into ye Town two rods wide allowing good swinging gates on each side of ye Salt meadow; and Robert Feakes may have a gate on ye west side and Robert Townsend shall keep a gate on ye East side of his land. Laid out by consent of Robert Feakes, Robert Townsend and Samuel Weeks. The signatures of the Family seem to have been "Feake" by the immigrant Lieut. Robert, but "Feke" by his descendants down to about 1820, after which the phonetic rendering as "Fecks" obtained general currency, showing the tendency in colloquial usage to apply the plural termination as in Cock, Cole and Wick.

In 1699 was laid out a highway from ye Mill (at Oyster Bay) to ye Shoo Brook and so to Matinecock, and so around to Hog Island as ye path now goes six (6) Rods wide throughout and also from ye said Highway as ye way goes to Musketa Cove six (6) rods wide.

Highways laid out in the old Purchase of Matinecock by the Proprietors thereof, are ordered as followeth:—From ye highway that goes by Joseph Weeks senior's Westward between John Priar and Mott's (now W. C. Townsend and Cravath) lands, so up the Hollow (some time called Horse Hollow) as the way goeth until it comes to Josias (now or late Edward) Latten's land and so up along Latten's (now Hooper's) land till it comes to Musketa Cove land. Six (6) rods wide throughout.

In 1708 this was resurveyed and laid out by County Commissioners. Beginning at Joseph Weeks' corner and runs westerly by the School House till it comes to William Frost's land four rods wide or as it stands by marked trees; then southerly between William Frost's land and John Prior's land and so westerly across a corner of said Frost's land as it stands by marked trees till it comes to the South Path and so westerly until it comes to the end of Pudding Lane as it stands by marked trees and northerly up the Lane to Aaron Forman's land; the heap of stones to be the middle of the Highway at the south end and the Peach tree at the north end; then it runs westerly between Aaron Forman and Josias Latting's land as the Highway now runs and so westerly across James Sands his land as it stands by marked tree and across lands of Aaron Forman and William Frost and then westerly till you come to James Sands land four rods wide from the two trees that are marked and northward along the place to the Widow Burroughs' land and Landing Place as it stands by marked trees. Memorandum—that James Sands and the Widow Burroughs are allowed to have swinging gates on the West side of the Island Swamp Brook upon their own charge.

Highway from the above said road at the south end of Aaron Forman's land, southerly along to the brow of the hill and so eastward to John Prior's land and so along the South end of Prior's land to the Highway from Oyster Bay to Matinecock. In a further memorandum it is noted that the way eastward on the Southside of Lot 16, which was Birch Hill, should be three rods wide.

Highway ordered six (6) rods wide from William Frost's Burs as ye way now runs Southward by John Townsend's land (near Meeting House) to Isaiah Harrison's (at Susco's Wigwam) and so to Jericho.

Highway ordered to run from Joseph Weeks Jun's House (Davis corner) up along the North side of Chagechagon Swamp until it comes to ye highway from Matinecock yt goes South (to ye Meeting House) 4 Rods wide throughout.

Sheep Land was first laid out in 1784-5 by the Proprietors of Matinecock Common Lands preliminary to their allotment and division and in 1748 by the Highway Commissioners of the Town as a three (3) rod road down to the two rocks on the edge of the meadow at Frost Creek, with the consent of the Proprietors.

In 1739 as voted in Town Meeting, Granted the whole and sole right of keeping and employing a Ferry from ye Township of Oyster Bay across ye Sound unto ye Township of Rye or to New England to Samuel Macoune. Thomas Jones, Penn Townsend, David Valentine, Wright Frost and Daniel Cock and their assigns forever, &c, &c.

It appears that Thomas Jones soon became the sole owner and purchased three acres of land about where the Firling house stands and ran the ferry from thence to Rye, but after the use of it for about two years by accident the boat was upset and all the living freight and passengers were drowned including Jones.

FIRST GENERATION

1 WILLIAM FROST,* b. prior to 1635, was in Southold, Long Island, as early as 1655, with his brother John, and perhaps, with his father John, who died there the same year. After 1656, all by the name of Frost had disappeared from Southold with the exception of Sarah, daughter of one John, who married Thomas, brother of the Rev. Youngs of that place, but at what date is not known. However, she as a widow with a family, married in 1690 John Tuthill of Southold, they having one daughter who died young.

Without doubt William and John were among the numbers leaving Boston and its vicinity about 1653, going via New Haven to the Long Island shore, where in 1640 thirteen men from New Haven had preceded them and formed a settlement at Southold. The next we know of William he is in Setauket, then Brookhaven, listed as one of its inhabitants in 1655. In 1659 he signs the following petition which had been presented to the General Court at Hartford, Conn., by the inhabitants of the plantation at Cromwell's Bay, and at a session of this Court held there Oct. 6, 1659, the records give: "Cromwell Bay being propounded to this Court to be admitted and received under this Government. The Court considering the same, have and doe declare their willingness to accept said

*William Frost may have been born in Binsted, Co. Hampshire, Eng., but the probabilities are he was born in America, and his father (perhaps John) may have been a brother of Elder Edmund, of Boston, Mass., or William may have been the son of Elder Edmund, as no children are given the latter between the years of 1632 and 1637, an unusual occurrence for those times, and tradition tells us one or two of his sons disappeared from Boston, and it is not unreasonable to suppose they may have followed the families who went from there to New Haven, as some of the younger sons of Elder Edmund did, and later returned.

A letter from George Frost, New Town, Alton, Hants, England, on a business sheet headed "Appointed Emigration Agent for the Government of New Zealand, South Australia and Canada," says that his grandfather's name was George and that he had a brother William. All his father's children were born in Binsted and he looked up some baptisms that are also found on the list from that parish. The letter is not dated, but it is known to have been written about 1871.

While in Setauket he was awarded “a new purchaser’s accommodation, to wit: A piece of land between Mr. Brewster’s and Thomas Thorp for a home lot and the rest where it could be found convenient, so that it may not be prejudicial to highways and waterways, the said Frost paying the purchase as others do.” It is only fair to assume that it was here that he met and married his wife. From the town records of Brookhaven, Long Island, which we are led to believe was in those days the same place as Setauket, we find the following:

Oct. 21, 1685, William buys land of Moses Mudge of Moscito Cove and it is entered on the records at Hempstead, L. I.

Many historians claim that when Capt. John Underhill in 1663 purchased from the Indians that part of Oyster Bay known as Matinecock, he had associated with him John and William Frost, but there are no records known to the compiler to verify this statement, although it may be true. However, in 1667, Wm. Simson purchased from the Matinecock Indians a tract of forty acres with rights in the "undisposed medows, fresh and salt, with crick, thatch, with ye benefits of ye cricks and coves, with fre hunting, fishing, fouling with ye benefit of all minerals according to law." Here he erected a dwelling house and lived until 1674 when he conveyed it with all improvements to William Frost described as of Setauket or Brookhaven.

It is without doubt here that William and his wife had their first home and from December, 1674, until a very few years ago this farm with many added acres was in the possession of the Frost family.

John, the brother of William, was living in the neighborhood in 1672, for he, with wife Abigail, buys land there from Robert Williams, but shortly after he crossed to the "Main land" and located in New Haven, Conn., dying there in 1700, leaving a large family.

William married previous to May 20, 1673, Rebecca, daughter of Nicholas and Ann (Beaupre) Wright. She was the former wife of Eleazer Leverich of Lynn and Sandwich, Mass., and Oyster Bay, N. Y. William died Nov. 19, 1719, and was buried on his own farm as are many of his descendants. The date of the death of Rebecca is uncertain, but she was living at the date of William's will in 1698. According to the records in the New York Surrogate's office, it appears that William must have married the second time, for in 1720 Letters of Adm. are granted to wife, Eleanor, on the estate of Wm. Frost, Esq., of Oyster Bay, L. I.

WILL OF WILLIAM FROST OF OYSTER BAY,
DATED MCH. 28, 1698.

✕ I, William Frost, being sick of body, but perfect in memory, item, I give and bequeath to my two sons William and Wright Frost all my land and meadows equally to be divided amongst them. All my moveables, I give and bequeath to my wife and after her decease to be equally divided between my two sons, and my two sons to take care of their mother and to see that she wants for nothing as long as she doth live and I do empower my two sons to receive all debts which are due to me and to pay all debts which I do owe which can be made to appear. I, William Frost, do confirm all my above said land and meadows specified and bequeath to them as above, said William, my eldest son and Wright my youngest son to them and their heirs forever, but if one die it shall return to the other and if both die without issue it shall then return to any of the Frosts' descended from George Frost born in Binsted, two miles from Farnam in Hampshire in old England.

(Signed)

WILLIAM FROST.

Nicholas Wright, father of Rebecca, who married Wm. Frost, was a direct descendant of Thomas, who in the time of Henry the VIII, was of Norfolk, England, and whose son John died seized with the manors of Teudalls and Rowses. Nicholas was the son of John, who married Ann, daughter of Edmund Beaupre, and heir to Beaupre Hall in Norfolk, England. He was born there in 1609, but just when he came to America is not known, but he early settled in Lynn, with his brothers, Anthony and Peter. Lynn was then called "Saugus" and in 1637 ten families were discharged from the church there to form a settlement in Sandwich, Mass., and among them were the Wrights and Rev. Wm. Leverich, whose son became the first husband of Rebecca (Wright) Frost, from which marriage there was no issue.

On Sept. 7, 1641, a division of meadow land was made in Sandwich and lots fell to each of the three Wright brothers. In April, 1653, the Rev. Wm. Leverich and Nicholas, Peter and Anthony Wright, with others, left Sandwich and located in the neighborhood of Huntington and Oyster Bay, L. I. (In this list is one Wm. Hurst, which, if one had access to the original, might read Wm. Frost, which fact may be suggestive to the future student.)

Nicholas Wright dates his will April 10, 1674, and calls himself of Oyster Bay, saying he is aged sixty-five or thereabouts. The will was proven Dec. 13, 1682, and he makes his wife Ann, Executrix. Mentions all his sons but not his daughters, probably because they were all married and provided for, but in the Will of their uncle Anthony, who never married, under date of May 20, 1673, they are all named and left small amounts. The will was proven Dec. 8, 1680.

Many lines of the Frost family trace back to Nicholas and Peter Wright.

The "Friends" or "Quakers" made great inroads on Long Island as early as 1657, but although there is ample evidence to connect the Wright family with them in those early times, all facts lead to the belief that the pioneer Wm. Frost was not of them, for on Aug. 5, 1693, there is a petition of George Boardman and wife of Oyster Bay, relative to ten acres of land seized by Collector Wm. Frost, for taxes, thereby showing he was the tax collector for the King and not interested in the "Friends" as late as that date, nor was his son Wright Frost, for he was also a tax collector as will be shown farther on.

SECOND GENERATION.

2 WILLIAM, son of (1) William and Rebecca (Wright) Frost, born Matinecock, 1674, died there Nov. 29, 1728. He was accidentally killed while slaughtering a beef which fell on him. He married about 1700 Hannah, daughter of John and Elizabeth (Bowne) Pryer of Matinecock. Hannah was born Oct. 22, 1681, and died Dec. 18, 1771.

Hannah Pryer was the grand-daughter of Matthew and Mary Pryer and also grand-daughter of John and Hannah (Feke) Bowne of Flushing. John and Hannah Bowne were married May 7, 1656. John was from Matlock, Derbyshire, England, and was twenty-nine years of age when married. He was the son of Thomas, who died July 18, 1677, aged eighty-two years. Hannah Bowne was born 1637, and was the daughter of Robert and Elizabeth Feke, Elizabeth being the widow and cousin of Henry, son of Gov. Winthrop, who was drowned in Salem, Mass. Her maiden name was Fones and she came to New England Nov. 2, 1631. (See Bowne-Fones-Feke-Winthrop families.)

Two old stones in the Frost Cemetery marked "W. F., 1738, and M. F., 1751," are evidently the markers for Wright and Mary.

In 1707 Wright Frost, as tax collector, demanded of Mary Willets, a Friend, a tax rate for church purposes. She records she refused to pay, and he took whatever he pleased for the priest's worship house.

Dec. 23, 1731, Wright Frost, Jr., of Oyster Bay has his ear mark entered at Hempstead as "on left ear a crop and a half penny on each side ye Right ear."

In a letter from the late Valentine Frost to the late Mr. J. J. Lattin, Mr. Frost says he has the commission of Wright Frost, Cap't of Militia of Oyster Bay, 1737. He also has the journal that Wright Frost kept when he went on horseback to Burlington, Vt., where he owned some land, and refers Mr. Lattin to Mitchel's old diary, but of the latter I could find no record.

In the meetings of the Westbury Meetings of the Friends under date of April 30, 1712, Mary, wife of Wright Frost, is condemned for going out of the order of Truth in taking a husband and against the witness of God placed in her own conscience, and signifying her sorrow for the same and her desire to be reconciled to God and his people, the "Friends," are satisfied.

COPY FROM W. K. FROST OF TROY, N. Y.

"It appears that there was a Swedish nobleman who was possessed of large wealth and who disappeared from Sweden about 1760 to 1770 after placing a very large sum of money on deposit in the Swedish Bank. It transpired some time afterward that he came to this country and acquired a large tract of land in Delaware which he leased for 99 years and again disappeared and was never again heard from. About half the city of Wilmington stands on this land. Shortly before the expiration of the lease the agitation was started with the object of getting in position to take possession when the lease fell in, as the Rose Springer who married Benj. Frost was the heiress of the aforesaid nobleman. It was a matter of common knowledge in the family that she and Benj. were man and wife but upon attempting to show the record and so prove the marriage legally, there occurred a mysterious fire in the room where the marriage records were kept, which fire was extinguished before very much had been burned, but after it was all over the book containing these particular records was missing. What was done with the property is not known, but, being unable to prove a legal descent, we were forever out as far as our division was concerned."

The compiler has read a letter written by Egbert Heustis of Verbank Station, Dutchess County, N. Y., in 1884, in which he said that some of the ancestors of Rose Springer must have been sea captains as old books on navigation and bearing the Springer name are in the family, and also that the old family Bible of Benj. Frost was then in existence but I have been unable to get any trace of it. (See No. 630.)

In the Frost cemetery at Locust Valley, L. I., is a stone so old that all dates are obliterated, bearing the name of Hannah Springer.

Samuel Frost homestead was about one mile from Yorktown Heights, N. Y., and is supposed to have been the farm adjoining on the west, the place where Jordan Cox Frost lived for many years, what is called Turkey Mt., being on the opposite side of the valley to the southeast. On this place all the children of Samuel were born. Amawalk Meeting House was three miles away, and in the "Friends" burial ground of that place several generations lie buried. A few stones marked with initials only, after the fashion of the "Friends," do not aid us in the complete identification of each one of the family. Tradition says that the British and the American armies both encamped near their home at times, but all through the war Mary (Cock) Frost remained on the homestead and so saved it from confiscation. The marauders from both armies drove off all the desirable cattle and horses. Jordan C. Frost, a grandson of Samuel and Mary, had for a long time in his possession a hopple with a peculiar lock that his grandmother, Mary, kept on an old horse when turned out, to prevent him from being stolen. The family being "Friends," were of course neutral.

34 DAVID, son of (7) John and Phebe (Tilliar) Frost, b. June 3, 1743, d. May 5, 1826; m. Sarah, b. Dec. 30, 1741, d. March 10, 1835, daughter of John and Sarah (Turner) Hyatt of Yorktown, N. Y. David and Sarah lived most of their lives in Carmel, N. Y., but moved to Pleasant Valley, N. Y., to spend their last days with their youngest son Jacob. They are buried in the Baptist burial ground at Salt Point, N. Y. David's will is on file at Poughkeepsie, dated Dec. 7, 1818, and proven May 15, 1826. Sarah's will is filed in Carmel, N. Y., and was proven May 6, 1835. In the tax list of Fredericksburg, N. Y., of 1777, David is mentioned and also his son David.

He was a private in the Revolutionary War, under Ludington, Mead's Co. and is also listed under Lt.-Col. Reuben Ferriss' Seventh Regiment. He was also executor of the will of Sylvanus Hyatt, the brother of his wife, which was proven April 19, 1775.

He purchased a farm of 168 acres on June 20, 1783, from the confiscated estate of Roger Morris. On Feb. 3, 1791, he styles himself of Fredericktown, Dutchess County, N. Y., and sells 8 acres and 20 rods to Caleb Hazen of Carmel, N. Y.

David Frost was a blacksmith, probably learning his trade from his step-father, Thomas Thorne. The shop was on the Croton River, at Carmel, N. Y., and was the neighborhood headquarters. Enoch Crosby, the spy of the Revolutionary army in this territory and the supposed original of Harvey Birch in Cooper's "The Spy," often visited the place, but no allusion was ever made to his vocation, since both parties were represented there. David had for a partner Dr. Belden. All tools of every description were then made by hand and mostly in blacksmith shops. He used to say that it was easier to make a good ax than a perfect horse shoe nail. Jacob, the youngest son of David, recalled well when the central shaft of the water wheel was brought down from the woods. A string of neighboring ox teams was made up and ox chains were doubled up and twisted together, but they did not pull evenly and were snapped, one after the other, and while the oxen were waiting a chain was extemporized at the several fires of the shop, of bar iron hooked at the ends, and this held.

This branch of the family once owned where the Yorktown, N. They did not catch her although she was hampered by having two children with her.

Mrs. Henry Birdsall, a descendant, now living in Peekskill, N. Y., has a candlestick which was picked up after the French had camped on one of her ancestral homes.

John signed the call to Rev. Ebenezer Knibloe at Gilead, in 1755.

He was 20 years old when he enlisted, May 1, 1760, with Capt. Richard Rea's Company, and also served under Capt. Dickenson, according to authentic records.

The Memorial of Rensselaerville Monthly Meeting, concerning our Friend, Jordan Frost, deceased.

Being sensibly affected with the loss we have sustained, in the removal from works to rewards of this our beloved friend, we feel our minds engaged to give forth the following testimony concerning him:

He was born at Oyster Bay, on Long Island, in the 2nd month, 1754. Although our information respecting his early life is imperfect, yet it appears that he was of a sober and sedate turn of mind from his childhood. By yielding to religious impressions he felt himself drawn to join in memberships with Friends, about the twentieth year of his age; according to the testimony of those who knew him, he was at this early period engaged for the promotion of truth and righteousness in the earth, being an example of simplicity and uprightness. He very early evinced a religious concern in relation to the use of ardent spirits, and was zealously engaged, both by example and precept, to discourage the vending and consuming of this article.

About the twenty-seventh year of his age he married Amy, daughter of Jacob and Amy Underhill, and removed within the compass of Nine Partners Monthly Meeting. He was soon after appointed an Elder. This important trust he continued to exercise, we believe, with faithfulness for more than fifty years, until his death. He had a clear view of the importance and excellency of a sound and living ministry. His concern for the welfare of society, as well as for the growth of individuals in true religious experience, joined to the natural tenderness of his feelings, made him a sympathizing fellow-helper to those in the ministry, and qualified him to speak a word in due season, by way of counsel or encouragement, to the exercised traveller.

In the year 1799, he experienced a close trial in the death of his wife, which he bore with Christian fortitude and resignation.

In 1803 he removed within the limits of this Monthly Meeting, then a branch of Coeymans. Here a field of labor was opened for his usefulness. He stood many years in the capacity of overseer, for which service he was eminently qualified. To his own Monthly and Quarterly Meeting he was a diligent servant, often riding many miles to attend to appointments, for which he was particularly qualified. He was remarkable for his diligence in attending religious meetings, believing it to be a solemn duty, and his deportment in them was solid and weighty.

He loved peace, and often usefully exerted himself promoting it; and, being much beloved, he was eminently useful in settling difficulties, not only in his own Society, but among his neighbors.

He was a true sympathizer with the afflicted, often visiting the members of his own Meeting in their respective families, administering counsel and encouragement suited to their several circumstances. He having himself derived much consolation from the perusal of the Scriptures of Truth, he was concerned to encourage others in the reading of them.

He was not officious in religious matters, but, when he expressed a sentiment, possessing uncommon diffidence, great weight was attached to it. The degraded condition of the African race was early an object of his concern—his sympathetic mind was engaged to promote their freedom; and it is believed to have been much through this early exercise that the slaves in his father's house were manumitted. He continued to maintain this important testimony through life, having for many years abstained from the use of the produce of slave labor, often expressing a desire that no act of his might contribute to the calamity, that he believed would overtake the nation if the practice of slavery were persisted in. In relation to his own Society he was heard to remark, a short time previous to his death, that he did not see that the Society could advance without greater faithfulness in this important particular.

The last Meeting he attended was on a First-day, a little more than a week before his death, in which he was observed to be much affected with tenderness. His last illness was short, through which his mind was calm and evidently centered in God. Although his mental faculties were somewhat impaired, he was sensible his end was approaching, and expressed his resignation in either life or death. Thus, without apparent pain, he gradually declined, and departed this life on the twenty-ninth of fourth month, 1835, in the eighty-second year of his age, and we doubt not is now permitted to enjoy the reward of a well-spent life.

Anna Frost Clapp, born 1825, says: "Uncle Jordan lived at Rensselaerville, N. Y. I remember his coming to see grandfather. He was a small man and wore drab 'small clothes,' or breeches."

Solomon was born on the Frost homestead at Crum Elbow, purchased from one of the nine partners by his father. The nine partners purchased it from the Indians. It was one mile north and south, and two miles east and west, and was divided among his children, Solomon receiving the central portion. All of Solomon's children were born there and Solomon died there in his eighty-third year.

Anna Vail, wife of Solomon Frost, was sister to Aaron Vail who was appointed by our government during the Presidency of Washington to take the place of the appointed Ambassador to France. The first minister went over, but being unable to speak French was recalled and Aaron Vail, being a linguist, was sent in his place and was termed "American Consul."

Jordan Cox Frost said that Wright, who was born in Yorktown, N. Y., sympathized with the Tories during the Revolution, and moved to Long Island, where he remained until the close of the war. All through the war Wright's mother remained on the homestead, and so saved it from confiscation. Her husband died in 1775. At close of the war Wright returned and took possession of the old farm in some way, moving his mother into a small house on the farm on which Jordan afterwards lived. Jordan's father, Prier, and Samuel R. Frost owned this farm together once. Samuel R. sold out to Prier. In later years Jordan and his brother Wright came into possession.

450 Phebe, b. March 30, 1819, d. Aug. 12, 1819.

Phebe Underhill, wife of Isaac Cock, was daughter of Thomas and descended from Capt. John Underhill. (See Underhill family.) Some friends and distant relatives had moved to the new country between Cayuga and Seneca Lakes then Tompkins County, now Schuyler County. To this country about one-half mile west of Searsburg, Samuel R. and Zilpha Frost moved about 1816. This was called the cold summer. It is said there was frost every month in the year. Corn did not mature and our immigrants were obliged to boil weeds to feed the pigs. Suffering and distress were abundant. Tiring of the hardships after two or three years, they returned to Westchester County, New York.

Amawalk Meeting Records show Samuel R., wife Zilpha, and infant Prier, received removal certificate from Scipio M. M. to Amawalk M. M., Dec. 16, 1820. They moved often during the next 17 years, never owning a place of their own, living at Amawalk, Crom Pond, and New York City. Samuel R. was a travelling cobbler. In 1836 he moved to Genesee County, where his uncle, Thomas Cox, had gone. Zilpha came with the furniture on the Erie Canal. Samuel R. came through with an old horse and lumber wagon. They lived in Chili, Monroe County, for two years. On April 1, 1838, he bought a farm of fifty acres in Henrietta for $2,500 from Chester Miller. From Daniel W. Frost went to Chili in the early part of the last century and was a merchant trading considerably with China. His will, filed in New York City in 1827, in both Spanish and English, is a unique one, owing to the fact he was of Quaker inheritance.

His son (458) Daniel became quite prominent in Chilian politics, and was sent abroad on important diplomatic missions, and was a member of Congress in Chili and a great Radical.

Extracts from a letter written by Daniel Wright Frost, to his mother, Sarah Carpenter, of Peekskill, N. Y., dated April 5, 1807, and written on board the ship Maryland, then lying off Saint Joseph, on the Point of the peninsular of California and bound for China. He was the ship's surgeon at that time, and also at as early a date as Sept. 1, 1805.

"By the kindness of a friend I have an opportunity to write to you across the continent by the way of Mexico and Vera Cruze.

"The first time I wrote you from the coast of Chile. Nineteen long months has now elapsed since I left my native country and then before this time I expected to have been back again, but our voyage will undoubtedly be much longer than we expected but I am in hopes the most tedious part of it is now nearly finished as we calculate to leave this coast for China in about a month.

"You need not give yourself any uneasiness, my dear mother, about my return, as we consider our greatest danger now over. The next part of the voyage is a plain and pleasant navigation in a latitude where gales seldom blow and where but few rocks or Isles impede our course.

"You need not expect me home until March or April of 1808, when I hope to find you, my dear mother, and all my friends in good health.

DANIEL WRIGHT FROST, M. D.

(No. 145)

"You will remember me to my stepfather and family and my dear sisters, their husbands and children in particular, and likewise to all inquiring friends. I enjoy good health and live upon terms of friendship with all the officers and people on board. In my capacity as surgeon I have been rather fortunate than otherwise, for by the help of God I have preserved the lives of our ship's company so far and it will be the height of my pride to bring them all home alive and well. In haste, my dear mother,

"Your affectionate son,

"DANIEL W. FROST."

Just when Daniel decided to live in Chile has not been ascertained, but Sept. 1, 1805, he was a surgeon on the ship Maryland, for an invoice of china consigned to him by Geo. Newbold of New York, is still in existence, also an invoice of goods, consigned to him Sept. 3, 1803, in care of Jonathan Perry, Master of the ship Maryland.

In a letter written by his nephew, Samuel Frost Haviland (who had gone to Chile also), he says his uncle Daniel was taken ill in October and died Dec. 13, 1826, leaving a widow and four small children. The letter was dated March 4, 1827.

In another letter Samuel Frost Haviland, under date of May 14, 1825, says Daniel Frost has a son and daughter.

The family still have (1910) some curiosities Daniel brought from China, such as silk embroideries, shawls, cut crystals, and silver articles. After he gave up sea travelling he settled down in Sarena, Chile, and founded a bank, which was the first in that country. He sent for several of his nephews, one returned and one died there. Another one, Samuel Frost Haviland, has many descendants still living in Chile.

David's farm was in Carmel, N. Y., said to be where the almshouse now is. He and his wife are buried in the old cemetery opposite the Baptist Church in that town. His old Bible is in the possession of Frank Townsend of Brewster, N. Y., and on the fly leaf is written, "David Frost his book. God give him grace therein to look, And when the bell for him doth tole, The Lord of Host receive his sole."

In the tax list of Fredericksburg Precinct, 1777, is mentioned Samuel Washburne, David Frost, David Frost, Jr. In the mention of highways of Carmel, 1744, there is one to be made from Shaws, by marked trees to Frost's Mills and thence to Spraggs. Shaw's was on the north end of Lake Glenida, then known as Shaw's Pond. Frost's Mills were on the Croton, but just where the compiler could not discover.

In a survey made Oct. 17, 1771, is the following statement: "At Jesse Smith's farm, now Widow Hall's, on which was laid a heap of stones, crossed the West branch of the Croton to David Frost's."

Joel kept a grocery and dry goods store at Yorktown, prior to six years after marriage, then moved to Peekskill, N. Y., where he purchased and occupied a large house at the corner of Spring and Main streets. He sold that to Judge Constant, who sold it to Isaac Hadden, who kept it as the City Hotel. It finally burned. From Peekskill he moved to Croton Landing, then returned to Yorktown, and from there to Carmel, where he died. He was a man of the highest integrity and sound judgment. It is related that the morning after the marriage of his daughter, she and her husband were late to breakfast and so were not allowed to sit at the table until the family had finished.

He was member of Assembly from 1806 to 1808 and Surrogate and County Judge for Putnam County, New York, from 1813 to 1821, and in 1821 a member of the convention which revised the New York State Constitution. In 1823-5 he represented Putnam and Westchester Counties in the United States Congress.

*Solomon Frost moved to Somerset, Niagara County, N. Y., in 1833. The family came across on the Erie Canal. Solomon drove a team. It was a wilderness. He bought 132 acres of land and built a fine house from the timber he cut and the house is occupied to-day by his son, Isaac J. At Solomon's death his son Hiram purchased the home and when he died Isaac J. bought it. It is situated in the great fruit district three-quarters of a mile from Lake Ontario, surrounded by magnificent elms.

Isaac J. Frost, son of Solomon Frost, was born in Somerset, Niagara County, N. Y., February 4, 1838. He was educated in the common schools. He married Ruth A. Fuller December 29, 1859. They resided with his father on the old homestead for quite a number of years, after which he bought a farm in another part of the town, where he resided until about the year 1904, when he bought the old homestead and resides there at this time. His wife, Ruth A., died June 9, 1910. She was a very active worker in the Woman's Christian Temperance Union Society and President of the County organization for many years. She was also President of the Presbyterian Missionary Society. She was an able writer and gained a very wide acquaintance. Isaac and Ruth were both members of the Presbyterian Church and Isaac is now and has been for some time one of the ruling elders of that organization. He has held several town offices and is a man well liked and highly respected. No issue.

On Sept. 16, 1824, General Lafayette arrived in Poughkeepsie on the steamer James Kent, and was received by several regiments of militia commanded by Gen. Brush, and a great crowd of people. The procession moved up Main Street to Academy Street, and down Cannon to Forbus' Hotel, where he was received by the Trustees of the village. At that time Solomon Vail Frost was the President of the village, but he being a Quaker would not ride in a procession where there was a brass band and a regiment of militia. The party proceeded to the (145) Daniel Wright Frost, uncle of Samuel Frost Haviland, went to Chile and sent for his nephew, Samuel, and in a letter dated June 12, 1822, which is still in existence, he says, in writing back to his parents in New York State from Coquimbo, Chile, "My uncle, and his family are here and I have engaged to stay with him and do his writing one year. I am very much pleased with my new aunt, and in fact with all the family that I have met. My aunt has a mother, two sisters, and they have the name of being one of the first families in Coquimbo." Samuel finally married one of the sisters he wrote of. He was the first man to start a bank in Chile, and he was United States Consul General for many years until his death. His house is even to-day one of the handsomest in Santiago, and was the first house built in a modern European fashion in contrast to the old adobe Spanish house of that period.

Samuel Frost Haviland, born at Peekskill, N. Y., Dec. 22, 1798, sailed for the west coast of South America in the winter of 1821-2, reaching Valparaiso, the chief seaport of Chile, about the month of March, 1822. After visiting Santiago, the capitol, for four or five weeks, which he describes in a letter to his parents as being nearly as large as New York, he took a ship from Valparaiso to Coquimbo, a small but important seaport (on account of its copper mines), lying about two hundred and fifty miles north of Valparaiso.

His uncle, (145) Daniel W. Frost, a prosperous merchant of the place, who carried on an extensive trade with China, had resided here for some time, and two years before had married Dona Paola Osandon e Irrebarren, the daughter of Don Diego Irrebarren, both belonging to the best families of the place and of pure Spanish descent. He accepted a position with his uncle at a salary of six hundred dollars for one year and his board, after which, as he wrote his parents, having learned the language, there would be some prospects of his doing something for himself. He found Coquimbo (or La Serena as it was sometimes called, though La Serena proper was some miles away), a most charming place, with a delightful climate, a quaint old world society with simple habits, kindly and hospitable, and through his connections was thrown most intimately into it. It is not surprising, therefore, that a few years later, in 1825, he married his aunt's younger sister, Dona Maria Felisa Osandon e Irrebarren, a young lady of eighteen. Another and much older sister had married in 1807 Dr. George Edwards, whose son, Augustin, became one of the greatest bankers and capitalists of the South American continent.

In 1830 Mr. Haviland founded in La Serena the first mining bank in Chile, and it was he who issued the first banknotes in that country. The highest denomination was of one dollar, and bore the vignette of a horse; the next lower, of fifty cents, that of a cow; and still another of twenty-five cents, that of a calf. These were current throughout the mining region about Coquimbo, being as acceptable and more portable than gold coin.

Mr. Haviland was appointed United States Consul at Coquimbo on March 1, 1839.

In 1842 "Don Samuel," as he was called by his friends in Chile, moved with his family to Santiago, the capital. He built a magnificent mansion on the "Alameda" between Ahumada and Estado streets, which "Chile Ilustrado," the standard work on Chile, published 1872, speaks of as being the first well-constructed and elegant residence of the capital, "retaining to this day its original merit."

"Don Samuel" was most hospitable and entertained most lavishly, his house being the "rendezvous" of all distinguished foreigners visiting the Capital, and every Fourth of July there was a banquet, at which Americans and English were invited. His toast on the occasions, turning in particular to one of his most intimate friends, Mr. Eastman, an Englishman, who never missed being present, was, "Here's to the day we licked you," and Mr. Eastman never failed to respond, "Here's to the day we got rid of you."

Mr. Haviland died Dec. 13, 1858, and "El Ferrocarril," of that date, had the following notice: "DEATHS—To-day at 5:30 in the morning died Don Samuel Frost Haviland. This distinguished gentleman established himself in Chile many years ago. Owing to his enterprise and industry he had acquired a considerable fortune and his merits had won for him a very high and honorable social position. He was the first who founded a bank in this country, showing us practically the advantages and importance of these institutions of credit. He always took a part in all those great enterprises which in the last few years have been introduced into this country, wishing to contribute with his wealth to the always increasing development and progress of the land of his adoption.

"Mr. Haviland was one of those enterprising foreigners, who associate themselves in such a manner to our customs, interests and prosperity that he may well be considered as a true Chilean citizen.

"We deeply mourn with his family the great loss they have sustained."

In the spring of 1911 a large packet of letters was found in an old house at Peckskill, N. Y., mostly written by Samuel Frost Haviland after his arrival in Chile to his parents. The earliest one was dated New York, Oct. 30, 1821, telling them he "will sail to-morrow, if they can get outside the Hook," and that he went "to see Mrs. Jacob Covert and she gave him a glass of jelly," recommending it for seasickness. Also wishes to be remembered to Aunt Patty Frost.

The next letter, dated March 14, 1822, from Coquimbo, Chile, was from Daniel W. Frost to Samuel Frost Haviland, the latter having landed safely in Valparaiso, telling him if he cannot get accommodations there to go to the "Publick House kept by Mrs. Walker in Santiago," where he will meet him in eight or ten days.

Under date of March 20, 1822, from Valparaiso, Samuel writes to his parents that he has arrived in above city but his Uncle Daniel was still in Coquimbo, but that his partner entertained him. He sailed from New York on ship Franklin, and that his passage money was paid by Mr. Jeranto, guaranteed by Mr. Field and his uncle, Benjamin Knapp. This letter was addressed to his father at Peekskill, care of Captain Requa.

Jan. 10, 1823, from Coquimbo, Samuel writes to his parents of the severity of the earthquakes, saying also he has heard from his sister, Charlotte, and that his sister Sarah had moved to the home of her father-in-law, and that Uncle Owen's family in Seipio were well and writes of his Cousin Esther's broken leg.

Aug. 2, 1823, from Coquimbo, he writes he is anxious to see his parents, but that his uncle has just given him one-half interest in a brig that is to trade on the coast and he will make two thousand dollars a month for at least five or six months by going south and bringing wheat and provisions to Coquimbo, as they are very scarce and high and can be bought for very little in Concepcion and Valdivia. Also, he is about to sail for Huasco, to despatch brig Coromandel with cargo of copper for New York or Boston. By her he sends this letter and one to his Cousin Ebenezer. Says he thinks nothing of mounting his mule and riding two or three hundred miles. That he rode to Copiapo, three hundred and fifty miles, in four days without the least fatigue.

May 14, 1825, from Coquimbo, he writes among other minor things, that his uncle Daniel "has a son and daughter."

July 15, 1825, from Coquimbo, to Ebenezer Haviland, telling him (Ebenezer) he will probably sail with Capt. Wm. Hale of the brig Carlo of New York, and addresses Ebenezer, 131 Chatham St., New York, and that he is sending this letter "by the Brig Geo. Gardner, Capt. Davidson, of Baltimore." (Ebenezer either did not sail at that time or lingered by the way, for in a letter dated April 8, 1828, Samuel writes that Ebenezer has arrived, also that he wants his father to quit keeping a tavern.)

Dec. 10, 1825, he writes to his parents from Huasco, that he "does not care to come back and sell tape and calico again."

Nov. 14, 1826, from Port of Huasco, he writes to his parents and sisters, saying that he had married the first of last Aug. Maria Felisa Osandon.

Mch. 4, 1827, writes his father that Daniel W. Frost died the 13th of Dec., 1826, after an illness of weeks.

Aug. 13, 1828, from Coquimbo he writes to parents that his wife and family are well and there is a boy four days old.

Nov. 10, 1830, from Coquimbo he writes he will sail for home in Jan. or Feb. Also that he lost his eldest boy Samuel Gilbert, and that Daniel S. is now 14 mos. old.

Mch. 6, 1831, he writes his mother he has a daughter whom he has named Anne, after her.

July 4, 1831, from Coquimbo, he writes his mother he is sending her "four hundred dollars by Mr. Hathaway, supt. cargo, ship, Porcia, sailing direct for N. Y. to be handed to cousin John Strang" for her.

Mch. 4, 1833, from Coquimbo, he writes that the names of his children are: "Daniel Sandalio, Anne Felisa, John Samuel."

May 14, 1834, he writes to mother and sisters that he has received a letter from aunt Phebe Haviland addressed to "poor Ebenezer" who had died. He sent by Capt. Clark, Ebenezer's watch, chain and seal to his mother.

Sept. 14, 1834, he writes he hopes "cousin Daniel W. Haviland is on his way out."

Dec. 8, 1834, he writes to mother and sisters he expects Daniel W. Haviland daily as "he wrote he would sail on the first vessel leaving N. Y. after June." Also "that wife and four children are well." He states that when a youngster he had two front teeth pulled in the lower jaw and that they were joined together and that his parents saved them as a curiosity and now he writes that his son Samuel has exactly the same formation of the same teeth.

Oct. 20, 1848, from Santiago, he writes Mrs. Emeline H. Dolton, Courtlandtown, N. Y., that he has "three young women daughters and four others younger."

Age 57 yrs. 9 mos. 9 days, daughter of David and Polly (Haviland) Birdsall. She is buried in the church cem. at Towners Four Corners, N. Y., and he in the old cem. at Haviland Hollow. Mary Birdsall was the granddaughter of James Birdsall and Hannah (Akin) and James was son of Nathan, the first settler on Quaker Hill, N. Y. The old home of James, in Haviland Hollow is still in a fair state of preservation. Hannah Akin was the daughter of David who in 1711 m. Sarah Allen, daughter of Ebenezer and Abigail Allen, and grand-daughter of Ralph, son of George. David Akin moved to Quaker Hill in 1741 and d. 1779. He is mentioned as a private in Field's Reg't, Hecock's Co., Dutchess Co. in New York, in the Revolution, but if it be a fact, he must have been a very old man. He was the son of John and Mary (Briggs) Akin of Portsmouth. John was a Capt. in King Phillip's War, b. 1663, d. June 13, 1746. His will was filed in Taunton, Mass. His mother was Mary, who purchased land in Newport, R. I., Sept. 22, 1675, having moved from Portsmouth, Mass., to Dartmouth, R. I. The name of the father I have not ascertained, but they were both of Scotch descent, and in the Heraldry Office in Edinburg, Scotland, a musty old volume contains a long account of this family. The crest was found at Abbotsford among the Scotts and the motto was "In Cruce Salus."

Copy of letter written Oct. 28, 1880, from Verbank Station, N. Y., by Egbert Heustis.

The old Bible is here safe, but in poor condition. It looks as though it had been battered about well. Many leaves are out which I am very sorry for, as it would make everything straight, no doubt, if they had been spared. It is Benjamin Frost's book. His name and two dates are on the inside of first cover. Dates are, I think, 1719, and 1772. Henry Frost's name is under Benj. Frost. There is a record of Zopher Frost's family, perfect, birth and marriages and his children's record. There is proof in this book that it went to Zopher Frost and from thence to Chestnut Ridge. "Benj. Frost's book" is on the last leaf twice, Oct. 12, 1793. He must have been living at that time and he must have given the book to Roseanna Heustis at that time. Benj. Frost's children's record is in the Bible and also a record of Mary Frost, her marriage record to Zobulin Dickinson in the year 1701 and died in the year 1720. She must have been a sister or aunt of Benj Frost. You will have to come down and look it over. Oh! I haven't looked it all over yet. There is scratching and scribbling all through some parts. The pilot book shows plainly where it has been used most. It is ready any time for proof when needed.

(The compiler has tried in vain to trace this old Bible, evidently belonging to a grandson (No. 8, Benj.) of the pioneer. This Bible was sent to Egbert Heustis by some of the family living in Illinois, in connection with matter appertaining to the "Springer" estate and Rose Springer was the wife of Benj. Frost (8).)

The maternal great-grandfather of Henry H. Frost was Paul Hoag, a native of Dutchess County, where he lived and died. He was also a member of the Society of Friends, and reared his family in that faith. He married Elizabeth Chase, by whom he had eleven children. Henry Hoag (grandfather) was the eldest of the children, and lived to be ninety-six years old. He married Sarah Haight, to whom were born two sons and three daughters. One of the daughters was Anna, who married Solomon Frost and became the mother of Henry H. Frost. She was born at Nine Partners, Dutchess County, and died at Somerset, N. Y., Nov. 21, 1891, aged ninety-six years. Henry H. Frost grew to manhood on his father's farm, received his education in the public schools of his neighborhood. After receiving sufficient education he began teaching school during the winter months, still intent on study for self-improvement. In this way he taught nine terms, working on the farm in the summer. He continued farming until 1865, when he removed to the village of Somerset, and embarked in the mercantile business in partnership with C. J. Aldrich under the firm name of Aldrich & Frost. After eight months he purchased his partner's interest and two months afterwards associated himself with Albert Van Wagoner, under the firm name of Frost & Van Wagoner. This partnership lasted two years, at the end of which time Mr. Van Wagoner retired, and he conducted the business alone until 1871, when he took as a partner William Scism, when the firm became Frost & Scism, which continued for about nine months, when Mr. Scism retired, and he conducted the business under his own name again until 1888, when his son, Solomon W., became his partner, under the firm name of H. H. Frost & Son. This partnership continued until the death of Henry H. Frost, May 20, 1903, when the son Solomon W. bought the business and still conducts the same.

In politics Henry H. was formerly a Democrat, but for many years before his death was a Republican. He has served as town superintendent of schools, as Justice of the Peace, and Town Clerk. He was a Notary Public, and for many years drew the greater part of the deeds, mortgages, wills, etc., in this section. From boyhood until about fifty years of age he was a member of the Friends, but when about fifty years old he united with the Methodist Episcopal Church and was a devoted member until his death. He was a class leader, and was superintendent of the Sabbath School for nine years.

Julia A. Frost was a devoted Christian and member of the M. E. Church, and until a few years before her death devoted much of her time to those in sickness and in trouble. She had a kind word for everybody and spoke ill of none. She was a true follower in Christ's footsteps and a perfect woman.

Letter from Charles Leonard Frost to his mother, written when he was crossing the plains to California:

"Fort Laramie.

"My Dear Mother:

"I am in good health and enjoying the journey very much. It is a very exciting life. All is wild, picturesque and fascinating. The wild face of the country, its roaring torrents, rugged hills, its fiery tribes of Indians, its immense herds of roaming buffalo, all combine to render the nature of man different from what it is in civilized life.

"I can tell you at the start you must not expect to see such a letter written on these plains as you would expect to see were I sitting comfortably at my desk. I have commenced this letter some time before reaching Fort Laramie, and will finish it at that place. My last was dated at Fort Kerney, although written within eight miles of the Fort on Platt River.

"18th of May. Traveled eight miles to Fort Kerney. Contains 15 buildings built of square sod of the prairie 12 inches in size. It would be a curiosity for you to see. Contains 240 troops, one store, one eating house, 2 blacksmith shops, no provisions for sale. Owing to the dry, sandy road the fillys of our wheels became loose. We had our tires cut by our own blacksmith and fitted. I think they will now stand to California. There are a number of ladies at this fort in the families of the officers. Traveled this day 20 miles; good roads, water and timber scarce.

"19th. Left camp at 8 o'clock A. M., still on the trunk of Platt River. Fort Kerney is 400 miles from Independence. Fort Laramie from Fort Kerney is 340 miles. Traveled 10 miles and camped. No wood or water, grass only tolerably good. Traveled 20 miles, camped on the main Platt River. The river water is hardly drinkable. No wood, use buffalo chips. A light shower this evening; grass tolerably good. Saw a number of buffalo. Our camp was serenaded by wolves through the night. Traveled 25 miles; excellent roads, not a hill or stone, crossed no streams.

"20th. Started six o'clock from last camp, beautiful day. It has been superior weather since we reached this valley. It is completely hemmed in by rugged hills. Our mules are in excellent condition; we nurse them as we would children. They are noble animals, and they are very fond of me. I am kind to them and they are sensible of it. They are great travelers, they are the only animals adapted to this journey. Their great endurance of labor, heat, great time without food and water, is far beyond any other animal in use in this country. We pass hundreds of teams and hundreds pass us. The emigration is immense. The plains are alive with teams, oxen, horses and mules. They look like one vast caravan. We never lose sight of the moving thousands. At night the prairies are alive with the multitude and made to shine with camp fires. There is no such thing as telling how many are now on the road; twenty thousand I should say a moderate estimate. As far as we can hear all in good health. We ascertain this by notices on trees which are literally cut up and notices on paper laying in the road and stuck on boards driven in the ground. Every buffalo pate, and the prairie is covered with them, is written on to give us the news of those ahead of us. We see no new made graves, not one, but many of last year's. No accidents have occurred except broken wagons and the dying of horses and oxen. I have not seen a dead mule. No attacks of Indians nor is there any danger. They must look at the emigration with astonishment. It must give them some little idea how numerous the white men are. Camped on the banks of the Platt; water miserable, no wood, buffalo chips for fuel. Has the appearance of rain, wind northeast, fine roads, river varies in width from one-half to five miles, is very shoal; would not float a good-sized flatboat any distance. Has much the appearance of the Missouri. It is a rapid, turbulent stream. It is now at a low stage of water. This is the great range of buffalo, elk, antelope and deer. Their flesh is delicious. Traveled 25 miles.

"21st. Raining, wind southeast. Left camp at 6 o'clock; traveled 12 miles, camped at 11 o'clock A. M. Grass tolerably good near the river. The river valley is growing narrower; ranges of high hills on each side of us. It has cleared up, not much rain; grass is much better. No wood, not a shrub; river water. Roads unequalled; very level and as smooth as your pavement. Limestone soil as it has been the whole journey; quality good, somewhat sandy. Fine tobacco country, but the weed has never grown here sown by the hand of man. It may exist in a state of nature. Traveled 12 miles making the day's journey 24 miles. Camped on the river; thundering and lightning but little rain. Through the night we had quite an excitement from a party of Pawnee Indians whooping and hallowing on the opposite side of the river and fording the river. I stood watch until 12 o'clock but they did not trouble us.

"22d. All safe this morning. Our mules were not disturbed. Left camp at 9 o'clock in excellent health such as men enjoy no other place off the plains. Clear, beautiful day for traveling. We are now about 12 miles from the junction of the north and south forks which make the main stream of Platt River. Our last camp shows the vast number of buffalo that frequent this country. The valley looks like a barnyard for thousands of acres. They will not be driven from here for many years by settlers; this is not adapted to the wants and comforts of man. The valley and river is here only 5 miles wide and is diminishing rapidly. We left our noon camp at 2 o'clock passing 12 hours for our mules without water. We had plenty in our canteens for ourselves. Only 12 miles from south fork of the Platt River on the south side. Not a stream of water on the road, not a shrub. We saw many dead buffalo the emigrants had shot for sport. It is wrong. Enough are killed on the plains to feed the emigration and left to rot or to be eaten by wolves. Camped at dusk on a fine creek; good grass.

"23d. Camp rose at 3 o'clock, restaked our mules in fine grass, gave them 1 quart of corn each and curried them; took a hearty breakfast, left camp at 7 o'clock. Beautiful day. Excellent roads, grass poor, no timber, poor water. Through the day camped on the river bank; fine grass. Traveled 25 miles.

"24th. Beautiful day; the water is tolerably good, the grass very good. Have concluded to remain in camp to-day and night, rest our mules and let them fill themselves with grass. Last night my watch came on at 2 o'clock; did not go to bed since. The guard duty is well attended to in our camp, as it should be.

"Have been very busy all day. Persons who have never traveled on the plains little know how few spare moments he has to spare if he does his duty. We keep ourselves clean by frequent bathing and this pertains greatly to good health. We have much washing of clothes to do in order to keep ourselves tidily dressed. We do not shave. In the morning I shall leave camp early and try to make a good day's journey. I do not know that I can write you after leaving Fort Laramie until I reach California, which will be about the first of September. It may take 60 days for a letter to reach you from California, which will make it first November. Please give my respects to Uncle William, and tell him I will write him a long letter when I reach California, giving him a true and correct account of the journey, a description of country which I passed over, etc. Kiss my darling son and daughter for their father."

RETROSPECTION.

How well I remember the Andirons so bright,
A hickory log blazing, the dim candle light,
The spinning wheel weaving, the whir of the loom,
With snow of mid-winter and laughing full moon.
As the lads and the lasses chassez to and fro,
The old folk were knitting as in days long ago.

The old arm-chair by the clock in the hall,
Are fond recollections I love to recall.
And the church in the valley with pillars so white—
The deacon is sleeping, the children's delight.
Yet the lads and the lasses chassez to and fro,
Still the old folk were knitting as in days long ago.

Right merry the party, the fiddler he said,—
"Now choose you your partner, the one you would wed."
Well pleased were the lasses, as around they did spin,
In the days of their childhood, at the old village inn.
All the lads and the lasses chassez to and fro—
But the old folk were knitting as in days long ago.

How sweet were the doughnuts our grandmother made;
Cherished still is the spring so cool in the glade.
Content and so happy in the chimney the crane.
The iron pot was swinging again and again.
As the lads and the lasses chassez to and fro,
Asleep were the old folks as in days long ago.

Hyatt was born and brought up in the neighborhood where originated the idea of exhibiting wild animals, and this generation cannot realize the fervor with which it grasped all the young people in the vicinity, farmers being unable to get help or even to keep their boys at home. Hyatt and his brothers also became deeply interested and when the first elephant, "Old Bet," came to this country it was with great pride that Hyatt got the privilege of carrying water to her and also his brother Eli was made happy by the same vocation, and consequently had the privilege of seeing her for nothing, while others were paying a York shilling (twelve and a half cents). Hyatt finally became sole proprietor of the Barnum and Van Amberg's Calista attended the district school until fourteen years of age, then became pupil at Quaker Hill Seminary and finally became a teacher there. After marriage, lived in Southeast New York for six years. Her husband built a large hotel on the shores of Lake Mahopac which would accommodate four hundred guests and they lived there twenty-five years. It was destroyed by fire Oct. 5, 1869, with a loss of over $80,000, and the insurance policy had expired the day before. Mr. Baldwin then started a bank, and was Postmaster, but losses in Wall Street affected his mind and hastened his death, after which she went to live with her mother in Hyde Park, N. Y. She was for forty years a consistent member of the Mahopac Falls Presbyterian Church.

FROSTS WHO CLAIM DESCENT FROM (11) THOMAS, SON OF WILLIAM (2).

This descent could not be proven by the compiler, although it is reasonable to suppose that Thomas, son of William the 2nd did not wait thirty-nine years before marrying. However, this line claim their Thomas is buried at Schodack, N. Y., while Thomas No. 11 is buried in the old Frost Cemetery at Oyster Bay. He died 1782, and in his will does not mention any of the children given below, and he certainly should have done so, particularly the son Abial, born as late as 1774. Personally the compiler believes that some future worker on this family will prove that they are descended from the Connecticut family of Frosts and not of William of Oyster Bay, and these facts are published hoping they may be of assistance to some one later on.

In some old letters written by (69) Thomas I. Frost he says his grandfather brought up a boy named Disbrow, who was a relative. Said boy became a prominent man in Westerlo, N. Y., and died over 80 years of age. In another letter he said he often heard his father say that his family came from the town of Northeast, Dutchess County, N. Y., and that his grandfather brought up a boy named John Snyder. One "Snyder" settled on the Manor of "Rensselaer" some years before his grandfather died and rolled up a log cabin into which his grandfather moved. Another letter states he recalls hearing the old folks talk of Pine Plains, Dover, Pleasant Valley, and Washington, all in Dutchess County, New York. Also writes of some articles in French's Gazetteer of 1860, which the compiler has been unable to find.

FIRST GENERATION.

1 THOMAS FROST; m. Abigail, daughter of James and Abigail Wallace of Salem, N. Y. The family claim they lived Stephentown, Rensselaer County, but the compiler thinks they are in error and that it was in Stephentown, Westchester County, now Somers, close by the above Salem. The will of James Wallace, dated March 16, 1782, and proven Feb., 1788, mentions wife Abigail, daughters Abigail, Sarah, Lucy, Mary, sons Jacob and James; also mentions land he sold to Tertullus Dickinson. Witnesses: Wm. Wallace, John Palmer, Joshua Knapp. Wm. Wallace lived Ridgefield, Conn., and letters were granted to Uriah Wallace and he was discharged July 23, 1828.

Issue:

+2 Thomas.

3 Enos, who went to the then "West" Genesee County. There was an Enos Frost who served in the Revolutionary War from Dutchess County, N. Y. This Enos is said to have had a son Beebe.

SECOND GENERATION.

2 THOMAS, son of (1) Thomas and Abigail (Wallace) Frost, b. March 13, 1750, d. Schodack, N. Y., July 28, 1820; m. Deborah Stevens or Stephens, b. Feb. 29, 1744, d. May 28, 1818.

Van Rensselaer, the "patroon," made a lease of land in what is now E. Nassau, N. Y., to Thomas Frost, 1789. He lived Schodack, N. Y., and on his door plate was "Thomas Frost, Jr." He was with Montgomery at the taking of Montreal.

His time being up about then, he returned home and did not go on to Quebec. He was under Washington for a short time, serving as a shoemaker. In 1804 he was Justice of the Peace, and on his gravestone is the word "Esq." He m., 2nd, Lydia Pinney. No issue.

A FROST FAMILY SHOWING DESCENT FROM (11) THOMAS, SON OF (2) WILLIAM.

This is another line also claiming descent from above Thomas, and which the compiler believes to be a fact, but has been unable to find any record of an earlier marriage of Thomas than that given in No. 11. After considerable study of the above Thomas, the compiler is led to believe that he married prior to his marriage with Phebe Thorneycraft in 1757, and on that supposition the following short record is based.

THOMAS, son of (2) William and Hannah (Prior) Frost, b. May 17, 1718, d. Dec. 11, 1782. Buried in old Frost Cemetery, Oyster Bay. Married, 1st, (?).

Extracts from letter written by W. A. Crawford-Frost Jan. 6, 1893, then Rector at Merrick, L. I.:

"My own name is William and my father's also. John and William are the names of the two oldest boys for as many generations back as we can go on the Frost side of the house. I have heard enough of the Frost history from my grandmother to convince me that my great-grandfather was possibly the son or the brother of William who went to New Brunswick from Long Island in 1783. I have heard my grandmother speak of Long Island, but always thought she referred to Long Island in the Ottawa River to which place my great-grandfather John Frost came, either during the Revolutionary War or during the War of 1812. It was then called Bytown and is now Ottawa, the Capital of the Dominion. He came from the States during some war, and if there is a Long Island near Ottawa it was doubtless so called by the Loyalist settlers in memory of their home. My grandfather, John Frost, also, when a young man, pushed up the island lakes to a place called Owen Sound, where he settled and where my father and I were both born. We later moved to Toronto, though an exceedingly numerous family of Frosts are still in Owen Sound. I came to Prince Edward Island and Nova Scotia four or five years ago, being curate of St. Paul's, Charlottetown, P. E. I.

"I believe the Frosts originally came from Devonshire. My grandmother Frost is still living in Owen Sound, and the Frost homestead there, a handsome old stone house on a hill, is called 'Sheldon Place.'"

Lived at Hampton, Mass. in 1640 he was in New Haven, Conn., with wife and two children, and helped organize a Congregational Church, and later went with John Budd and eleven others to Southold, L. I. They arrived there Oct. 21, 1640, and drew lots as to whom should be first to set foot on shore. It fell to Peter Hallock, and the place has ever since been known as Hallock's Point. Barnabas was a magistrate for many years, and served several times as a member of the General Court held at New Haven. He built the first frame house on Long Island, and in 1875 it was still standing. It was a shingled house and has never been reshingled. He is buried in Southold, L. I., and his stone reads, "Here lieth buried the body of Mr. Barnabas Horton, who was born in Mousely, Leicestershire, England, and died at Southold, the 13th day of July, 1680, aged 80 years." He brought his own tombstone from England. Jonathan G. Horton was the last Horton to occupy the old home. Barnabas lived there twenty years, his son Jonathan twenty-eight years, his son Jonathan sixty years, his son Lawrence and his son Jonathan fifty years, and lastly Jonathan G. fifty years. He (Jonathan G.) died July 3, 1873, and it then became the property of Rev. Mrs. Williams of Brooklyn, who was an adopted daughter. BUDD FAMILY.

JOHN BUDD was in New Haven, 1639, as a Freeman. The first we know of him on Long Island is in October, 1640. "Mr. Jones hath the lott granted unto him which was formerly granted unto John Budd of Yancock (Southold)." In 1648 "it is ordered that John Budd have granted him 4 acres off new ground added to his other ground to make an 8 acre lot." In 1650 he is mentioned at Southampton as owner of a water mill and running the same, and is called Lt. His name occurs there no more after 1651. He moved to Westchester County, 1660, on account of some difficulty with his neighbors. The Budd house is still standing. In 1679 Lt. Budd sold it to John Hallock and it now belongs to Jonathan W. Hunting.

John Budd figures in Indian deeds in Rye, May 10, 1673, and granted, 1681-2, a meadow in Rye to Jon. Horton.

From Calendar of N. Y. Col. Ms. Indorsed Land Papers in the office of the Secretary of State:

April 29th, 1666. Indian deed to John Budd of a tract of land in Westchester Twenty English miles west of Apanam is bounded on the south by Westchester Path and the East by Blind Brook on the west by Mamorinack River and on the north bound are sixteen English miles from the Westchester Path up into the country.

June 17, 1720. A petition of Capt. Joseph Budd and others praying for confirmation for a tract of land in the township of Rye, known as Budd's neck, bounded on the east by Blind Brook and Mill Creek, on the north by the Westchester Road and Harrison's Patent, on the West by Mamarroneck River or harbour and on the south by the sound, containing 1250 acres, together with the small island lying in the Sound over against the aforesaid lands, one quarter miles from shore, called Henn Island, containing ten acres, all of which lands were included in purchase made by John Budd (dec) under a license from the Colony of Conn. of a tract of land lying on the main shore, then called Apanammis, butted and bounded on the east with a river called Mockaquams, and on the south by the sea, against Long Island, and on the west by a river called Pockotessewacke.

July 7, 1720. Petition of Capt. Joseph Budd and others for a patent of confirmation for 1500 acres of land in the town of Rye, Co. of Westchester.

Dec. 21, 1721. Petition of Joseph Budd and others praying a patent of confirmation for a tract of land called the White Plains.

March 10, 1722. Description of survey of 4435 acres of land, Co. of West Chester commonly known by the name of White Plains, laid out for Joseph Budd and others by Cadwallader Colden.

Joseph, son of Barnabas Horton, married Jane, daughter of John Budd. (See Horton family.)

SIMPKINS FAMILY.

In 1636, April 14th, Nicholas Simpkins was brought before Gov. Winthrop for "braving Lt. Morris and telling him in public that he lied. He confessed but refused to acknowledge it as a fault or to ask pardon." He was committed and on the 16th, upon his submission and acknowledgment that he had done ill, "we took his bond of twenty pounds to appear at the next court and left him at liberty. Besides he was ill and we feared he would grow distracted."

Nicholas Simpkins on March 5th, 1640, ordered by the Court at Yarmouth with Philip Tabor, to be added to the Commission to make an equal division of planting land.

Nicholas Simpkins, tailor, when in Boston, 1634, was made First Captain at Castle in the harbor.

Aug. 28, 1636, Sebastian Paulina was brought over by Mr. Simpkins to be bound out to Mr. Robert Keayne for ten years, but because he was a nephew of Mr. Simpkins it was decided he had no power to apprentice him.

Nicholas moved in 1638 to Yarmouth, back to Boston in 1649, and was of The Ancient and Honorable Artillery in 1650. His wife was Isabel ———.

Feb. 5, 1645, Nicholas and wife Isabel living in "Bastable," probably meant for Barnstable, sells to Thomas Boardman of Yarmouth their plantation of fifty-five acres.

March 1, 1648, Nicholas Simpkins of Scituate, New Plymouth, sells to John Williams, Jr., all houses, barns, thirty acres of upland and thirty of meadows.

April 4, 1649, Eshell (?) Simpkins, the wife of Mr. Nicholas Simpkins, releases her third in same.

Among the historical collections in Plymouth, Mass., may be seen an ancient deed given by Nicholas Simpkins to Andrew Hallet of Yarmouth, bearing date 1644.

Prior to 1658, Nicholas appears on the town records of Oyster Bay, L. I., where he sells to Gideon Wright seven acres near Sagamore Hill. 1658, he buys house and lot of Eleazer Leverich. 1668 he testifies to the ownership of a lot belonging to Anthony Wright. 1678, he buys of the Indians "the westernmost little Island," now Dosoris. He gives this island to his daughters, Sarah and Mary, and their husbands, Wm. Wilson and Samuel Tiller, and with them in 1687 assigns the title to Thomas Wall in exchange for land at Great Neck. 1668, he was one of the proprietors under the Musketa Cove Patent. 1687, named in the will of Francis Weeks as husband of his daughter Elizabeth.

He m. Elizabeth, daughter of Francis Weeks, and had Phebe, who m. Benjamin Coles, and whose daughter Jemima m. (4) William Frost; Daniel; Mary, who m. Samuel Tillear (see Tillear family for connection); Ezekiel, who m. Sarah ———; Sarah, who m. William Wilson.

ADAM, son of Adam and his second wife, was their eleventh child, although one previously born had been named Adam and died. Adam was b. Aug. 10, 1548, d. Groton Manor, 1623, buried March the 28th. He was a lawyer and county magistrate. He m., 1st, Dec. 16, 1574, Alice, daughter of William Still of Grautham, Lincolnshire, and sister to Dr. John Still, then master of Trinity College and afterwards Bishop of Bath and Wells. She and her first born child died Dec. 24, 1577, and were buried together in Hadley Church. He m., 2nd, Feb. 20, 1579-80, Anne, daughter of Henry Browne of Edwardstone, who was a clothier and who had wife Agnes, who d. Dec. 17, 1590. Anne died April 19, 1629.

Fourth Generation.

ANNE, the second child of Adam and Anne (Browne) Winthrop, b. Jan. 16, 1585, d. May 16, 1618. On July 22, 1587, she returned to her father's from a visit to her Uncle Mildmay's; May 10, 1602, she had a new gown brought from London. Feb. 23, 1604-5, THOMAS FONES came to her father's house; Feb. 25, 1604, they were married; Feb. 27, 1604, they departed towards London; Sept. 2, 1604, she was at Ipswich attending the marriage of the maid of her father's cousin Sparrow; May 8, 1605, she visited her father and departed from home May 23, being there at the marriage feast of her brother John, May 9th. Aug. 1, 1605, John visited his father at Groton. Thomas Fones d. April 25, 1629.

Fifth Generation.

ELIZABETH, known as "Bessie," first married her own cousin, Henry Winthrop, on April 25, 1629. He was born at Groton, England, and died July 2, 1630, being drowned in Salem, Mass. Elizabeth came to America with Margaret, wife of Gov. John Winthrop. She m., 2nd, ROBERT FEKE. (For Frost connection see Feake family.)

Adam Winthrop, father of Gov. John Winthrop, in his diary (appendix to Life and Letters of John W., Vol. I), under date of 1595, makes this entry: "The 16 of ffeb. Sarah Winthrop was married to John Froste." Under date of 1603 the following: "The —— day of October Sarah my cosen Frostes wife died."

L'STRANG FAMILY.

The name of DANIEL STRANG appears (age 37) in lists of inhabitants of New Rochelle, N. Y., Sept. 5, 1698. He was born about 1661 and died 1707. His will is dated Dec. 16, 1706, and proven Feb. 11, 1707. Prior to 1688 Daniel, being a Huguenot, had fled from Paris to England, where he held a Lieutenancy in the guard of James the Second. He had married CHARLOTTE, daughter of Francis Hubert, and she had succeeded in getting out of the Paris gates by the ruse that they needed wood and left a two-year-old son behind as hostage. She fled to her husband in England, and later he sold his commission and came to America, landing in New York and going to New Rochelle. He purchased a farm, but, having little knowledge of tilling the soil, he sold it and became an innkeeper and a storekeeper at Rye, where he died. In 1740 a man appeared, claiming to be the son whom Charlotte left behind her in Paris, but he could not prove his claim and so returned to France. In a letter of James the Second, under date of March 21, 1688, addressed to Attorney General authorizing issuing of warrants of denization to French exiles, appear the names of Daniel Le Strang and wife Charlotte, with children, Peter, Matthew and Mary Anna. These children must have been left behind, as there is no trace of them in this country. Daniel was ruling elder in the Reformed French Church in New Rochelle, and also a Lieutenant of Infantry. Charlotte (Hubert) Le Strang was born about 1656 and died in Rye about 1732.

The fifth child of Daniel and Charlotte Le Strang was CHARLOTTE, born 1693, who married, as his second wife, ROGER PARK, and their daughter CHARLOTTE married Benjamin Haviland. (See Haviland family.)

DANIEL LE STRANG, the fourth child of Daniel and Charlotte, born 1692, died 1744, married Phebe Purdy, and moved from White Plains to Cortland Manor and purchased three farms. Their second child, FRANCIS, born 1726, died 1816, married ELIZABETH HYATT, daughter of John of Yorktown, and sister to SARAH, who married David Frost (84).

The family name had by this time become to the members simply "Strang," and we find Elizabeth, sister of Francis, marrying Joseph, the son of the Rev. Samuel Sackett of Yorktown, and Joseph, a brother, marrying Jemima, daughter of Joseph Budd of Rye, thereby again uniting the pioneer families.

The will of Daniel "Streing," dated Dec. 16, 1706, says he is of Rye, Westchester County, and calls himself "Gentleman," leaves everything to his wife Charlotte, and makes her sole executrix. Proven Feb. 11, 1705-6.

Daniel was a witness to the will of Jean Machet of New Rochelle, dated April 17, 1694, and signed after his name, "Justice of the Peace."

The will of Charlotte "Streing," dated Oct. 20, 1722, and proven Jan. 31, 1723-4, calls herself a widow and leaves to her eldest son, Daniel, her large French Bible and ten shillings. Mentions also Luisan (Louise) and Charlotte and David, children of her eldest daughter Luisan Forgee, deceased. Gives her wedding clothes to her three daughters, Clorinda, wife of Samuel Purdy; Charlotte, wife of Roger Park; Mary Prudence, wife of John Budd. Gives her grandson, Henry Streing, a lot purchased from George Lane of Rye.

The French (still existing) Marquises de l'Estrange bear a similar coat of arms to the above family. So do the Strangs of the English gentry, one branch of whom is connected with the early Stanleys, Earls of Derby. The arms in the latter case are identical, denoting clearly the existence of but one stock, both in France, England and America.

THOMAS FONES, son and heir of John.

THOMAS, citizen and apothecary of London, England, at the Three Fawns, Old Bailey, in 1628, died April 15, 1629. Married Feb. 25, 1604-5, Anne, daughter of Adam and Anne (Browne) Winthrop, of Groton, and sister of our Puritan governor, John Winthrop. She died May 16, 1618, and he m., 2nd, Aug. 28, 1621, Priscilla, daughter of John Burgis, D.D., and widow of Bezaliell Shearman.

Their second daughter and child was ELIZABETH (by first marriage), b. Jan. 21, 1609-10, who for her second husband married ROBERT FEAKE. (For Frost connection and descent see "Feake" family.)

WICKES—WEEKS.

JOHN WICKES (Weeks), a tanner from Staines, Middlesex County, England, aged 26 years, sailed from London in the Hopewell September, 1635, with wife Margaret, aged 28 years, and daughter Anneje, aged one year. He lived in Plymouth, where he was made a Freeman Jan. 3, 1636. On April 30, 1639, he is one of thirty to subscribe to a settlement of Newport, R. I. He was killed by the Indians in 1675.

Roger Williams, a young preacher who came to America in 1631 and settled at Salem, Mass., was the first to teach here that every man had a right to worship God as he saw fit. The Puritans censured him and pronounced him unsound in his judgment, and on his election by the people of Salem as their pastor a tract of land was withheld from them by the Boston council by way of punishment. This was followed by a spirited remonstrance from Williams and his congregation, in consequence of which Salem was disfranchised by the next General Court. Frightened at this, the supporters of Williams submitted, and he was left to advocate his cause alone and the Boston authorities ordered that he be sent back to England, but before the sentence could be executed he was beyond the limits of the Colony, and for fourteen weeks he and his companions wandered amid the deep snows of winter and at last reached the wigwams of the Wampanongs, who received him kindly and in the summer he obtained from the Narragansetts a tract of land on the bay called by their name. Here with his five companions he commenced a settlement which he named Providence. In his trial before the court he said, "My soul's desire was to do the native good, and to that end to have their language, and therefore desired not to be bothered with English company, yet out of pity I gave leave to William Harris to come along. I also consented to John Smith, miller of Dorchester (banished also) to go with us, and at John Smith's desire to a young fellow named FRANCIS WEEKS or WICKES, as also to a lad of Richard Waterman's."

In 1637 we find Francis Wickes one of thirteen to subscribe for the settlement of Providence, and in 1640 he was Secretary of the Colony.

March 31, 1647, he has four children baptized in the Dutch Church in New York: Samuel, Jan, Joseph and Elizabeth, and in 1648 we find him at Gravesend, N. Y.

July 9, 1651, he has two more children baptized: Annetje and Thomas, and on Nov. 24, 1652, a son, Jacobus, baptized in same church.

March 17, 1657, he was chosen Selectman for Hempstead, L. I.

Jan. 16, 1658, he has four cows listed in Hempstead as being of the "west herd" kept by Edw. Sprag.

About this time the "Friends" made great inroads on Long Island, and on April 18, 1658, we find Elizabeth (Luther), wife of Francis Weeks, denounced and fined by the Court of Magistrates at Hempstead, L. I., for frequenting "Quaker meetings held in the woods." Shortly after this they located at Oyster Bay, where he was a freeholder in 1661. On 10th of 8th month, 1670, he witnesses the marriage of John Tilton, Jr., and Mary Coates at Oyster Bay.

His wife was Elizabeth Luther, whom he married in Rhode Island, and their daughter Elizabeth, who was baptized in 1647, married Nicholas Simpkins. Mary, daughter of Nicholas and Elizabeth (Weeks) Simpkins, m. Sept. 26, 1678, Samuel Tillear (Tilley), of Matinecock, who lived near the Frost settlement, and had a son David. Whom David married is not known to the compiler, but his daughter Phebe, b. 1710, m. (7) John Frost, b. 1708, son of (2) William and Hannah (Pryer) Frost.

BOWNE FAMILY.

THOMAS BOWNE, b. 1595, baptized July 25, 1595, Matlock, Derbyshire, England, d. Sept. 18, 1677, Flushing, L. I.; came to Flushing from Boston in 1651.

JOHN, his son, b. May 9, 1627, at Matlock, England, baptized in parish church there May 29, 1627, probably came to Boston with his father, but returned to England and reached Boston again in July, 1651.

In August of the same year he settled in Flushing, L. I. He built his home there in 1661 (see picture facing page 228), and d. there Dec. 20, 1695, buried on the 23rd. He m., 1st, on July 7, 1656, HANNAH FEKE, daughter of Robert and Elizabeth (Fones) (Winthrop) Feake. He m., 2nd, 1679, Hannah Bickerstaff, who d. June 25, 1690. He m., 3rd, 1693, Mary Cock, daughter of James and Sarah Cock of Matinecock.

By his first wife he had as his second child, ELIZABETH, b. Oct. 8, 1658, d. Oct. 14, 1721, who m., 1st, Nov. 2, 1678, John Prier of Killingworth, L. I. John Prier d. Feb. 1, 1698, and his widow m. Samuel, son of Edw. and Martha (Washburn) Titus.

HANNAH, daughter of John and Elizabeth (Bowne) Prier, m. (2) William, son of William and Rebecca (Wright) Frost..

JOHN BOWNE, born 1627, son of Thomas, in the year of his marriage to Hannah Feake was not a Friend, but Hannah became acquainted with them as they were holding their meetings in the woods, and she soon became a member. Her husband attending one of these meetings with her, became deeply impressed, and he soon joined them, and for some time thereafter the meetings were held at his house, and the following is taken from the old Dutch Records now preserved in Albany:

"Complaints made 24th of August, 1662, by the magistrates of Flushing, that many of the inhabitants are followers of the Quakers who hold their meetings at the house of John Bowne." An ordinance of the West India Company of 1662 provided that "Besides the Reformed religion no conventicles should be holden in houses, barns, ships, woods, or fields, under the penalty of fifty guilders for the first offense, double for the second, and arbitrary correction for every other."

Consequently, John Bowne was arrested on 9th month 1st day, 1662, and was taken prisoner to Fort Amsterdam, and on the 14th of the same month the following judgment was entered: "Because John Bowne, at present prisoner, dwelling at Flushing, L. I., has made no scruple in vilipendation of the orders and mandates of the Director General and Council of the New Netherlands, we do in justice to the high and mighty states of the United Provinces and the Administrators of the West India Company of the Chamber of Amsterdam, having heard of the demand of the substitutes, and the acknowledgment of the prisoner, have condemned and do condemn the said John Bowne by those present—Boete—5 and 20 pounds Flemish with the charges of the Justician and with express admonition and interdict to abstain from all such forementioned meetings and conventicles, or else for the second boete he be condemned in a double boete, and for the third boete to be banished out of this Province of New Netherlands."

John refused to pay the fine and was confined in a dungeon, kept on bread and water, and no person was allowed to speak to him. As this did not seem to change his mind, he was taken to Stadthaus and put in the prison room there, and was allowed to see his wife and friends. The Court then notified him that they had resolved that he must pay his fine or be sent out of the County, or he would be set free if he would promise to leave the country in three months. He remained firm in his purpose not to compromise his principles. On the 21st of the 10th month he was permitted to visit his friends under a promise to return in three days, and on the 31st of that month he was put on board ship and sent a prisoner to Holland. He arrived at Amsterdam on the 29th of February, 1663. Notice of his refusal to pay his fine was sent to the West India Company, and after considering his case they drew up a paper for him to sign. In reply he said: "Friends, the paper drawn up for me to subscribe I have perused and weighed, and do find the same not according to that engagement to me through one of your members, viz.: That he or you would do therein by me as you would be done unto, and not otherwise. For which of you being taken from your wife and family, without just cause, would be bound from returning to them unless upon terms to act contrary to your conscience, and deny your faith and religion, yet this in effect do you require of me and not less. But, truly, I cannot think that you did in sober earnest ever think I would subscribe to any such thing, it being the very thing for which I rather chose freely to suffer want of the company of my dear wife and children, imprisonment of my person, the ruin of my estate in my absence there, and the loss of my goods here, than to yield or consent to such an unreasonable thing as you here by would enjoin me unto. For which I am persuaded that you will not only be judged in the sight of God, but by good and godly men, rather to have mocked at the oppressions of the oppressed, and added afflictions to the afflicted than herein to have done to me as you in the like case would be done unto, which the royal cause of our God requires. I have with patience and moderation waited several weeks expecting justice from you, but behold an addition to my oppression in the measure I receive. Wherefore I have this now to request for you, that the Lord will not lay this to your charge, but to give eyes to see and hearts to do justice, that you may find mercy with the Lord in the day of judgment.

"JOHN BOWNE."

In the 4th month he was released and returned to America via England and the Island of Barbadoes, but did not reach Flushing until Jan. 30, 1663.

The authorities in Amsterdam sent the officials in New Amsterdam the following decision, dated April 16, 1663: "We, finally, did see from your last letter, that you had exiled and transported hither a certain Quaker named John Bowne, and although it is our cordial desire that similar and other sectarians might not be found there, yet as the contrary seems to be the case, we doubt very much if rigorous proceedings against them ought not to be discontinued except you intend to check and destroy your population, which, however, in the youth of your existence, ought rather to be encouraged by all possible means. Wherefore it is our opinion that some connivance would be useful that the consciences of men, at least, ought ever to remain free and unshackled. Let every one be unmolested as long as he is modest, as long as his conduct in a political sense is unimpeachable, as long as he does not disturb others or oppose the government. This maxim of moderation has always been the guide of the magistrates of this city, and the consequence has been that from every land people have flocked to this asylum. Tread thus in their steps, and we doubt not you will be blessed. (Signed) The directors of the West India Co., Amsterdam, Department.

"ABRAHAM WILMANDONK,

"DAVID VON BAERLE."

This document ended the persecution of the Friends on Long Island.

HANNAH, the wife of John Bowne, became a minister, and made two religious visits to England and Ireland, and one to Holland and one to Friesland. John joined his wife in England in 1676, and stayed with her until her death in London in November, 1677, at the home of John and Mary Elson in St. John Street. She was buried in Chequer Alley, Bunhill Fields, on the 31st of November.

The Friends' Records of Flushing say, "John Bowne dyed 20 day of the 10th month, in the yeare 1695, and was bured ye 23 day of same being about sixty-eight yeares of age. He did Frely Expose himself his house and his estate to ye service of truth And had a constant meeting in his house near About forty yeares."

The Meeting House in Flushing was erected 1695.

B. J. Lossing in his article on American Historical Trees, referring to the "Fox Oaks" and to the religious services held by George Fox on his visit to Flushing in 1672, and quoting from Fox, says: "We had a meeting of many hundred people, and there being no place of worship large enough to hold the multitude, Fox preached in the shade of two large white oak trees near the house of John Bowne, a Quaker, who entertained him. One of these trees fell in September, 1841, but to-day all that remains is the spot on which they stood, which is on the other side of the street from, and nearly opposite to, the Bowne house, marked by a small granite stone with the inscription, 'Fox Oaks' cut on the top."

The following minute occurs in the Journal of John Bowne (who married in 1656 Hannah Feke), among some other matters to be attended to during a visit to England in 1676: "My wife's Unckel James is a doctor of fisick and did live formerly in the ould Belie at the sine of the three fanes—her ants name Alse Dickson formerly it was Alice Feke."

A mar. licence was granted by the Bishop of London, Feb. 14, 1619-20, to Alice, daughter of James Feake of London, to Tobias Dixon of London, Haberdasher. Mar. at Stepney, County Middlesex.

Early in February, 1665, each town was invited to send two delegates, "sober, able and discreet persons," to settle good and well-known laws, called the "Hempstead Convention" to be held Feb. 28, 1665, where many of the "Duke's Laws" were enacted. Among the delegates were John Bowne from Gravesend, John Hicks from Jamaica, John Underhill from Hempstead, Daniel Lane from Brookhaven, and William Wells and John Young from Southold.

At Gov. Sloughter's first Assembly held April 9, 1691, one of the Long Island Deputies from Queens County was John Bowne, but being a Quaker he refused to take the oath so another had to be appointed.

When Hannah Feke was about to be married to John Bowne, Capt. John Underhill lived in Southold, L. I., and from there on April 12, 1656, he wrote to John Winthrop, Jr., then living at New London, "Sir, I was latli at Flushing. Hannah Feke is to be married to a verri jentiele young man of gud abilitie, of a lovli fetture and gud behafor."

HAIGHT-HOYT FAMILY.

This family is a very difficult one for the genealogical student, owing to the fact that the families now spelling their names, Haight, Hoyt, Hait, Hyatt, etc., are all of the same origin.

First Generation.

JOHN HOYT, m. Ruth.

Second Generation.

SIMON HOYT, b. Dorchester, England, Jan. 20, 1590; m. in the parish church of Upway, Dorsetshire, Dec. 2, 1612, Deborah, daughter of Walter Stowers, b. Dorchester May 1 and baptized Upway, June 5, 1593. In 1628 or 1629 Simon, accompanied by his family, brother-in-law Nicholas Stowers and the Spragues, who were also of Upway, arrived at Salem, Mass., and went on to Charleston. In 1639 he was of Dorchester, 1635 of Scituate, 1639 of Windsor, Conn., and sometime between 1649 and 1657 he removed to Stamford, Conn., where he died Sept. 1, 1657. The date of death of Deborah is not known, but he left a widow Susanna and she later married one Bates. By his wife Deborah, he had the following children, whose births are all recorded in the parish church in Upway, England: (1) John, b. March 12, 1614; (2) Walter, b. June 9, 1616; (3) Thomas, b. Sept. 20, 1618, d. Stamford, Conn., Sept. 9, 1656; (4) Deborah, b. Aug. 9, 1620, d. June 3, 1628; (5) Nicholas; (6) Ruth, b. Jan. 2, 1625, d. May 9, 1627. There were seven children by the second wife.

Third Generation.

NICHOLAS HOYT, b. Upway, Eng., Nov. 10, 1622, d. July 7, 1655; m. Susannah Joyce who d. July 4, 1655. Lived Stamford, Conn.

Fourth Generation.

SAMUEL HAIGHT, b. May 1, 1647, d. Flushing, L. I., Sept., 1712; m. Sarah, daughter of William Noble, who was living in 1740 at 90 yrs. of age.

Fifth Generation.

DAVID HAIGHT, b. 1670; m. Phebe ———. Lived Rye, N. Y.

Sixth Generation.

MARY HAIGHT, m. Benj. Haviland. Lived Haviland Hollow. (See Haviland family.)

Seventh Generation.

MARY, daughter of Mary (Haight) Haviland; m. David, son of James and Hannah (Akin) Birdsall. (See Birdsall family.)

Eighth Generation.

MARY, daughter of Mary (Haviland) Birdsall; m. (486) Samuel Washburn Frost.

HAVILAND FAMILY.

First Generation.

WILLIAM, b. 1625-30, d. 1697; m. Hannah, daughter of John and Herodius (Long) Hicks. He purchased 100 acres on Mad Man's Neck, near Great Neck, L. I., in 1667, and was living there 1688.

Second Generation.

BENJAMIN, b. 1660, d. at Rye, July 31, 1726; m. Abigail Binger (?). He purchased 400 acres in Rye, 1711, and was in Flushing, L. I., from 1667 to 1688.

Third Generation.

BENJAMIN, b. 1690, d. 1724; m. Charity ———.

Fourth Generation.

BENJAMIN, b. 1719, d. 1760; m., 1738, Charlotte, daughter of Roger and Charlotte (l'Strang) Park, and grand-daughter of Daniel and Charlotte (Hubert) Le Strang, Huguenot exiles from Paris in 1685. (See l'Strang family.)

Fifth Generation.

BENJAMIN, b. May 10, 1740, at Rye, N. Y., d. Franklin, Dec. 2, 1801. April 7, 1795, mentioned as assessor at Patterson, N. Y., and lived in Haviland Hollow. He m. Mary, b. Dec. 26, 1742, d. Aug. 22, 1819, daughter of David and Milicent (Lane) Haight of Dutchess Co., N. Y.

Sixth Generation.

MARY, known as POLLY, b. abt. 1771, d. March 12, 1848; m. David, son of James and Hannah (Akin) Birdsall.

Seventh Generation.

MARY BIRDSALL, b. Dec. 2, 1802, d. Sept. 16, 1859; m. Samuel W. Frost (486).

A STUDY OF THE HAVILAND FAMILY PRIOR TO THEIR IMMIGRATION FROM ENGLAND.

BY EDUARDO HAVILAND HILLMAN, OF VENICE, ITALY.

William Haviland, the first known by that name in America, was appointed First Church warden of Newport, R. I., in 1646. Second, that he was made a freeman, May 17, 1653. Third, that on May 21, 1656, he was commissioner to the General Court, and in 1667, a representative in Assembly. Fourth, that while in Newport he married Hannah Hicks, daughter of John (2) Hicks (Robert 1) and Horod Long; and last, that, while in Newport, he had sons, John, Adam, Jacob and Joseph.

There has been a general belief among the descendants of William Haviland in America that he was the son or grandson of Mathew Haviland, born 1550, died March 11, 1619, mayor of Bristol, Eng., in 1607, who in his will (P. C. C.) dated March 2, 1619, mentions his "Sonne Willyam" and grandchild "Bartholomew Havyland, Sonne of the sayde William Havyland." Now the Parish Records of Saint Warbarrowes, as it is spelled in Mathew's will, now St. Werburghs, where most of his children were baptized, gives the record that "William Haviland, the sonne of Mathew Haviland, was baptized on the 23d day of April, 1578." Consequently, in 1646, the earliest mention I have seen of William Haviland in America, William, the son of Mathew, was, if living, over sixty-eight years of age, and it is, of course, absurd to think that he was the William who emigrated to America. In 1619, or when he was over forty years of age, William, son of Mathew, had a son Bartholomew, and it is fair to suppose the only son, from the fact that Mathew Haviland mentions no other. I have searched, besides St. Werburghs, St. Stephens in Bristol, and in all likely places in the vicinity, and fail to find any record of William having a son William.

My theory, a very probable one, is the following: William Haviland who was in Newport, R. I., in 1646, was the son of James Haviland, born 1553, died 1613, mayor of Salisbury, the brother of above Mathew Haviland, mayor of Bristol.

In the chronicle of the De Havilands, published anonymously about 1862 or 1863, the author of which was John von Sonntag De Haviland, York Herald at that time, he made the statement on page 11 that Christopher Havelland had by his wife, Cecilia, daughter of John Mann, Esquire, of Dorsetshire, issue, three sons, Mathew, James and Nathaniel, and that James died without issue. Having found several branches of the Havilands entirely ignored by Mr. John V. S. De Havilland in his chronicle, by such statements as "left an only son" or died s. p.," I decided to investigate the matter and wrote to Mr. John J. Hammond and later to the Rev. Edmund R. Nevill, both of Salisbury, Wilts, and well-known genealogists, and I am indebted to them for the following information regarding James Haviland:

"James Haviland was elected to the Corporation 35 Elizabeth (1593), alderman, 44 Elizabeth (1602), mayor, last year of Elizabeth and first of James (1602-1603); he is last mentioned in the Municipal Ledger as being present at a meeting of the Corporation in 1618." In the Burial Register of St. Thomas' Church, Salisbury, appears "Mr. James Haviland, 1 Ap 1618."

The children of James Haviland were baptized at St. Thomas' as follows, and these records were first published by me in Notes and Queries for Somerset and Dorset, September, 1909. I give the list in full as other descendants of James Haviland, mayor of Salisbury, might be misled by the statement that James died without issue, as given in the Chronicle:

Baptisms.

1595, Feb. 12—James, son of James Haviland, christened.

1598, April 4—John Havelon, the son of James Havelon, christened.

1599, Aug. 19—Elizabeth, daughter of James Haviland, christened.

1600, Sept. 14—Mathew Haviland, son of James, christened.

1602, Feb. 26—Bridget Haviland, daughter of Mr. James, maior, christened.

1603, Feb. 26—Giles Havelon, sonne of James, Gent, christened.

1605, April 1—Margaret, daughter of Mr. James Haviland, christened.

1606, Sept. 7—William, son of Mr. James Havelon, christened.

1607, Dec. 14.—Melyor, daughter of Mr. James Haviland, christened.

There evidently was an older son Christopher, born previous to 1592 (date in which a James, son of James, was baptized, but died soon after). For in the Baptismal Record in 1656 there is the entry "Willm s. of Christopher Haviland, 1 Aug."

The administration of James Haviland was granted to Thomassine Haviland, the Relict, 25 April, 1613. Thomassine died in September, 1641, as appears from the following entry: Mistress Tomson (Thomassine) Havelon Sept. 4, 1641. There is no record of the marriage or death of William Haviland, son of James, and it is fair to suppose that, being the youngest, and his other brothers marrying or dying, he lived with his widowed mother and took care of her until the time of her death in 1641, soon after which he emigrated to America, settling at Newport, R. I., married Hannah Hicks, and became the founder of the family in America. Mr. Nevill is also fully of this opinion.

The Haviland coat-of-arms which would belong to William Haviland in America would be the following, viz: Argent, three towers triple towered sable; and the motto "Dominus fortissima turris" (no crest), unless his father took for his crest one of the castles of the field as did his nephew, John Haviland, of Charlwich Hall.

In a sketch printed in the New York Herald, March 9, 1905, the Haviland arms were described as follows, viz: Videlicet, or, a Cross Gules, in the dexter Canton a Lion rampant Sable. Second and Third, Argent three Towers triple towered Sable. Crest, In a Wreath of the Colours, A Cat sejant Proper colored, and chain reflexed over the back Or. It is surprising that a writer on genealogical or heraldic subjects should have made such an absurd blunder as the above. These were the arms used by Thomas William Aston Haviland, who added the surname of Burke in addition to Haviland, being the sole representative in blood of his maternal grandmother, Julia Burke, sister of Edmund Burke, and also bore the arms of Burke quartered, with those of Haviland, both by royal license.

I have seen two cases mentioned of coat of arms willed by the descendants of William Haviland in America. John (3) Haviland (Benjamin 2, William 1) who died at Rye, N. Y., March 11, 1747, "had an old fashioned tall clock with coat of arms, also his watch, with seal and coat of arms, which he willed to his eldest son, but the clock was stolen by marauders during the Revolutionary War and the watch with seal and coat of arms cannot be found." Among the wills filed at White Plains, N. Y., Ebenezer (3) Haviland (Benjamin 2, William 1) wills his coat of arms to his wife Phoebe until his son Ebenezer is twenty-one, will proved January 1, 1749. The son Ebenezer wills his coat of arms to his nephew, Anthony B. Haviland; will proved May 4, 1816. Anthony B. died unmarried, May 26, 1836. Mr. Frederick Haviland, deceased, tried to find these coats of arms, but could find no trace of them. I hope that if these lines should be read by anyone having knowledge of the above-mentioned coats of arms, he will kindly communicate with me.

To go back to William's (baptized Sept. 7, 1606) ancestry, Christopher, his grandfather, was the son of James, mayor of Poole (1502-1506) by his wife Juliana, daughter of Mathew de Saumerez (vide Hutchins Dorset, vol. i., page 640 and 718 appendix). James was the son of James de Havilland (born at Guernsey circa 1450, died 1512) by his wife Helene de Beauvoir, daughter of Richard de Beauvoir. The father of the last-named, James (the founder of the family in England) was Sieur Thomas de Havilland of Geurnsey, Jurat of that place in 1470, who fought with distinguished gallantry at the recapture from the French of the Castle of Mont Orgueil in 1467, descended from the ancient and noble family of De Haverland, in the Cotentin Normandy, which derived its name from Haverland Castle, situated near Valonge, of which they were lords in A. D. 1050.

For his services in this, Sieur Thomas was rewarded in the Patent of Edward IV., and in order to avail himself of this privilege he established his second son James (Jacobus in the official record) de Havelland, Esq., the founder of the English branch of the family, in Poole, of which he may also be considered the founder, for by his wealth and enterprise he raised it to a place of great importance. He was mayor of Poole, 1494-1498.

I should be very grateful to any one who can give me exact date of arrival of William Haviland in America, as also extract or copy of any document, which might serve as a clue as to his age at any determinate date or any information which might confirm my theory.

Mr. Frank Haviland of Holliston, Mass., has gathered a great deal of material as to the Havilands in America, and it is hoped by all members of the family that he may soon publish its genealogy.

BIRDSALL FAMILY.

First Generation.

Just when HENRY Birdsall came to this country is not known, but he was admitted to the Church in Salem, Mass., in 1638, and on the 2nd of March, 1638, he was made a freeman, and at the Quarter Court held the 25th of Jan., 1639, he was a juryman.

June 29, 1639, Judith Birdsall married Henry Cook of Salem. Dec. 8, 1644, Henry Burtzell was chosen to keep the Meeting House, to sweep it and keep it clean upon all occasions of public meetings and to have yearly 15 lbs. and 15 shilings and on the 12 of March, 1647, he received payment of 3 lbs. and 17 shillings.

Oct. 10, 1649, Henry Cook of Salem, butcher, for ten pounds mortgaged his house, shop and one acre adjoining in Salem, to Henry Birdsall. September, 1651, inventory of Henry Birdsall's estate returned by Thomas Trusler and Edmund Batter. Estate 47 pounds, 19 shillings.

Feb. 16, 1654, Nathan Birdsall for valuable consideration hath sold unto Henry Cook five acres of land, with Joseph Pope on north side and Richard Bishop on south side.

Henry Cook died Dec. 25, 1661, leaving his widow Judith adm. She was living in North Fields, Salem, in 1667.

Second Generation.

NATHAN Birdsall, son of Henry, first appears on Long Island as per records, at East Hampton, July 5, 1653. "Nathan Birdsall, 3 akers more or less with Joshua Garlick on one side and piece of waste on the other." July 6, 1655, "Nathan Birdsall, his part of two lots, etc." Dec. 4, 1656, at Town Meeting, "it is also ordered that Goodman Burdsell shall have one acre of land upon ye ould Eastern Plainè that was Goodman Davis."

Dec. 27, 1659, Nathan makes deposition in case of Humphrey Hues. Nathan was also one of the syndicate in the purchase of Montauk from the Indians.

April 20, 1664, Nathan Birdsall, planter, sells for 50 pounds sterling to John Oldfield, tanner, all his accommodations, 13-acre lot, house, etc., with woodland and meadow, probably preparing to move to Matinecock, near Oyster Bay.

In the year 1661, Thomas Terry and Samuel Deering, two Englishmen from the eastern part of Long Island, adjacent to East Hampton, entered into a contract with the Magistrates of the town of Hempstead, at that time claiming jurisdiction over the territory of Matinecock, to settle at least seven families thereat. Nathan Birdsall was one of those seven and first appears of record in the town of Oyster Bay, Feb. 3, 1666, as purchasing 50 acres of Marks Megs, being land "on which Nathan Burcham now lives." On Feb. 22, 1667, he purchased sixty acres more of the Indians, which he later assigned to his sons Stephen and Henry. Nathan died about 1698, and five of the sons agreed to abide by the division of the property of their father as made in his life time. They were, Benjamin, Stephen, Samuel, William and Nathan. Subsequent disposition show other sons, Nathaniel and Henry. No daughters have been discovered and the name of his wife is not as yet known.

Third Generation.

BENJAMIN BIRDSALL the oldest son of Nathan first appears in Oyster Bay, Feb. 20, 1684-5 with brother Steven, and buys of the Indians 100 acres of land on north side of Littleworth Path where he probably built a house and improved the land. On Feb. 8, 1688-9 his ear mark is recorded in Hempstead and he was doubtless occupying property bought by his father of Lawrence Mott in the year 1679-80 at a place called New Brittain, Birdsall's Brook and Jerusalem.

Benjamin married about 1682 Mercy, daughter of Samuel and Miriam (Hoyt) Forman, and the following children were born to them:

Elizabeth, b. 1683, m. Nathaniel Townsend.

Susannah, b. 1685, m. John Underhill.

Samuel, b. 1687, m. Sarah Wright (?).

Benjamin, b. 1691, m., 1st, 1728, Charity Haviland;
2nd, 1735, Elizabeth Hopkins.

Miriam, b. 1693.

John, b. 1696, m. Elizabeth Langdon.

Zilpha, b. 1699.

Sarah, b. 1702.

Zibyah (?) b. 17(?).

Nathan, b. 1705.

Fourth Generation.

NATHAN, born 1705, m. by Rev. Thomas Poyer, Rector of the Parish Church of Jamaica, April 12, 1726, Jane, daughter of John Langdon. Both were from Hempstead.

We next find NATHAN, born 1705, as being the first settler on Quaker Hill, Dutchess County, N. Y., where he is supposed to have settled in 1728, arriving there with one child. Some students claim he reached there via of Purchase, as his name appears on the early Quaker records of that place, but there is a possibility that he came via Danbury and Ridgefield as a Birchard is interested in the first purchase from the Indians, also in Ridgefield. Nathan is said to have settled on land now owned by Albro Haines and he and his wife lived to be about ninety years of age and were buried in the Quaker cemetery in Haviland Hollow, Dutchess Co., N. Y. Nathan did not move to Haviland Hollow until the close of the Rev. War. There are no stones in the old cemetery to mark their resting place, owing probably to the objections the Quakers had to such markers at that time, and when the compiler of these notes visited Haviland Hollow in 1909 the old Meeting House, almost opposite the little abandoned cemetery, had recently blown down and cattle were browsing in the burial place where only a few head stones of more recent times were readable.

All of the headstones that were decipherable were copied, as were all of those in the newer burial place several miles farther on, known as the "Gerow" Cemetery, and placed in the custody of the New York and Long Island Historical Societies.

The children of Nathan and Jane were:

John, b. Aug. 11, 1727, m., 1st, Eliz. Tripp; 2nd, Rebecca Elwell. He died at Unadilla, N. Y., Sept. 17, 1815. Rebecca was born Jan. 5, 1735, died Oct. 15, 1806.

JAMES, b. Oct. 18, 1728, m. Hannah Akin.

Nathan, b. Dec. 1, 1732, m. Content, daughter of Geo. and Avise Soule.

There is recorded the m. of Nathan, Jr., on Oct. 9, 1794 to widow, Susannah Shippen, from Long Island, but believe on good authority the name should be Stevens and not Shippen.

Lucretia, b. Nov. 24, 1733, m. Gideon Wickham.

Ann, b. June 24, 1736.

Sarah, b. July 10, 1739, m. Oct. 27, 1762, Nathan, b. Aug. 9, 1738, son of Geo. and Avise Soule.

Jane, b. June 26, 1741, m. Timothy Brownell.

Benjamin, b. Aug. 4, 1743, m. Eliz. Akin, daughter of Joshia and Judith (Huddleston) Akin. She was born Oct. 19, 1746, died Sept. 9, 1836. He died in Chenango Co. in 1828. He abandoned his Orthodox Quakerism to join the American Army.

Mary, b. Aug. 1, 1745, m., 1st, Jabez Sherman; 2nd, (?) Sabin.

Phebe, born June 10, 1749, m. John Thomas.

Fifth Generation.

JAMES, son of Nathan, born as the first child of white parents on Quaker Hill; m. Aug. 15, 1747, Hannah, b. April 20, 1727, daughter of David and Sarah (Allen) Akin of Quaker Hill.

James Birdsall was a speculator in lands. He purchased a large tract in Haviland Hollow and leased to tenants. His will is filed in Carmel, N. Y., dated Jan. 11, 1814, and proven in 1817, in which he calls his wife "Betty." On April 22, 1755, he is enrolled at Oblong as a Quaker and exempt from military service. His old home in Haviland Hollow is still standing in a fairly good state of preservation.

James wills his daughter Phebe Sill, "the house where she now lives and the garden and the land where the orchard is east of the house, etc., up the hill and so notherly to John Towner's land, thence westerly down the hill between the house of David Birdsall and the house in which Phebe now lives."

He mentions all his other children, leaving residue to his son David, including "my desk, my great Bible, etc."

James is mentioned in "N. Y. in the Revolution" under "Land Bounty Rights," 3rd reg't, Dutchess County.

In the records of the "Friends'" Monthly Meeting is the following, which is still preserved in the 15th St. Meeting House, N. Y. City, "Whereas I have troubled my Friends in marrying out from amongst Friends I freely acknowledge I have done amiss and am sorry for it and desire Friends would pass it by & continue their care over me. I do hope by the Lord's assistance, I may be preserved from doing anything to trouble my Friends any more.

"JAMES BIRDSALL."

He was the first settler in what is now Nonquitt and afterwards lived in Padanaram, nearby. He was a Capt. in Col. Benjamin Church's company of militia and served in King Phillip's War. He married Mary, daughter of Thomas Briggs and moved to Quaker Hill, N. Y.

Third Generation.

DAVID, born Sept. 19, 1689, died 1779; m. Sarah, daughter of Ebenezer and Abigail Allen and granddaughter of Ralph Allen, son of George. David is mentioned as a private in Fields' Reg't, Hecoeks Co., Dutchess Co., N. Y., in the Revolutionary War, and is also on the list of Associated Exempts.

Fourth Generation.

HANNAH, b. April 20, 1727; m. James, son of Nathan and Jane (Langdon) Birdsall. (See Birdsall family for Frost connection.)

TOWNER FAMILY.

The compiler has not made an exhaustive study of this family, but is convinced that the immigrant must be looked for under the name of "Turner" and not "Towner." The following is what has been given to her by a member of the family with a few additions, and has not been verified in any way.

First Generation.

RICHARD TOWNER, settled at Guilford, Conn., February 17, 1686. Land was not put on record until May 2, 1712, when it was recorded as land formerly granted him and marked at the corners with stones bearing his initials. In 1689 he is in Branford, Conn., at a place still known as Towner's Hill. He moved from there three miles west to a place called Short Rocks, where the remains of his home are still visible and where some of his descendants still live. He was then about forty years of age, and all of his children were born before he came there. His will, dated May 6, 1725, says he is of Guilford and that he is aged and his vocation, a ship caulker. Owned farms at Haddam and Branford. Wife Deborah. Leaves son Samuel small amount in cash. He d. Aug. 22, 1727, leaving four sons, Richard, John, Benj. and Samuel. His daughter Sarah m. Oct. 22, 1713, first, Samuel Tyler, second, Mr. Cook; daughter Hannah m. a Hitt; and daughter Thankful never married.

Second Generation.

SAMUEL, the youngest son of Richard, was b. 1690 in Branford, Conn.; m. January 25, 1716, Rebecca Barnes of North Haven, a granddaughter of Thomas, of E. Haven, who signed the first Colonial Constitution in 1644. Samuel moved in 1723 to Wallingford, where Rebecca d., Jan. 31, 1727-8, and he m. in June of the same year, Amy, daughter of Capt. William Ward. He moved in 1735 to Waterbury, Conn., and was one of the first settlers in the part which is now Plymouth. In 1738 he moved to Goshen, where he purchased for 160 pounds, from the State, one of the original town rights, and some of this land remained in the family for three generations. In 1746 he moved to Woodbury, sold out there and moved to Newtown. In 1750 he was living in New Fairfield, Conn., North Society, now part of Sherman. The records of this place all destroyed by fire, but he was living there in 1753 and 1756. In 1763 his name appears at Fredericksburg, N. Y., in an old day book of the Phillips Patent in Albany. He died 1784 while on a visit to Goshen, Conn. He had by both wives thirteen children.

Third Generation.

SAMUEL, son of Samuel and Amy (Ward) Towner, b. 1744, as per stone in cemetery at Towners, N. Y., was in 1769 on Phillips Patent, N. Y., and Towners, N. Y., takes its name from him. He gave the present cemetery to the place, and it is said was the first person buried in it. He leased his farm from Beverly Robinson Nov. 2, 1773, and it reads, "Conveys to Samuel Towner, aged 27 years, his wife Mary, 24 years, and their oldest child, 5 years, Hannah, during their lives, 269 acres. Rent to be 27 oz. of silver plate of the value of Silver Pillar or Mexican Plate, annually for ten years. The lessee to plant 200 apple trees and fifty other trees within five years and in ten years erect a good stone, brick or frame house thirty feet long and twenty-four feet wide at least." After the Revolution the Robinson estate was confiscated and Samuel purchased the place for 12,925 dollars of Continental money on the 23d of August, 1780. The old home is still standing in a fair state of preservation. Samuel was supervisor of Patterson, N. Y., 1795 to 1799. He m. in 1767 Mary, known as "Polly," daughter of James and Hannah (Akin) Birdsall. She d. Oct. 8, 1827, in the 80th year of her age, and he d. April 1, 1814, in the 70th year of his age. (See Birdsall family.)

Fourth Generation.

SARAH, mentioned in her mother's will, proven April 3, 1838, as Sarah Knapp, m., 1st, Elijah, son of Benjamin and Mary (Haight) Haviland, and had three children: Elisha; Samuel, who settled in Canada, and Mary Ann, who went West. There are no known living descendants of this marriage. Sarah m., 2nd, Wright, son of Joseph and Hannah (Wright) Knapp, grandson of Capt. Daniel and Rachel (Horton) Wright, and great-grandson of Daniel and Esther (Lane) Horton. (See Knapp and Horton families.) Sarah d. Nov. 28, 1863, aged 82 years, and Wright d. Jan. 10, 1859, aged 76 years. Both buried in cemetery at Towners, N. Y. The will of Wright Knapp was proven Jan. 22, 1859, and he left all to his "beloved wife" during her life. (See Knapp family for Frost connection.)

First Generation.

NICHOLAS KNAPP was born in Buoy, St. Mary's, England, and came to America with Winthrop in 1630, settling in Watertown, Mass. In 1646 he sells his land there to Byron Pendleton, which had been granted him by the town, with the exception of one acre, called by him the "Pond Meadow," which he sold the year before to Edw. Garfield, under date Sept. 29, 1645. He moved to Stamford, Conn., 1649. He m. Elinor ———, by whom he had eight children: Timothy, Jonathan, Joshua, Caleb, Sarah, Ruth, Hannah and Moses. Elinor d. Fourth Generation.

WILLIAM, in 1423 of Wolverhampton, England; was the head of the Staffordshire branch, and of them have come some illustrious members, among them John, who was Chaplain to Queen Elizabeth, and about whom are many manuscripts in the British Museum, and Edward, known as the "Hot Gospeller."

Fifth Generation.

SIR JOHN EDWARD; m. Mary Mosely, who d. in Coventry, England, and he died in Holland. He was called the "Hot Gospeller."

Sixth Generation.

CAPT. JOHN, b. Bagington, Warwickshire, England, Oct. 5, 1597, d. Matinecock, Oyster Bay, L. I., July 21, 1672; landed in Boston May 18, 1630, from the vessel over which he had command named John and Mary from his father and mother. With him was his wife Helena (Kruger), who, with her son John, was baptized in the old South Church at Boston. By her he is said to have had John, who went to Long Island with his father; Benoni, who went to New Hampshire, and Elizabeth, who died young. Helena, the wife, d. Southold, L. I., 1658. In 1638 Captain John was banished from the Puritan Colony, and took up his residence in New Hampshire, where he was made governor, but his stay there was not prolonged, and we soon find him in Stamford, Conn., going from there to Southold, L. I., as early as 1644. Shortly after the death of his wife Helena he sold his house and lot to Thomas Moore and moved to Oyster Bay. In 1665 he was made High Sheriff of the North Riding on Long Island. In 1667 the Matinecock Indians sold him land, a portion of which is still in possession of the family. The Underhill Cemetery is part of this property. He married, 2nd, Elizabeth, daughter of Robert and Elizabeth (Fones) (Winthrop) Feke. (See Fones and Feke and Winthrop families.) She was b. Watertown, Mass., 1633, m. 1659, and d. 1674-75, and, until within a few years, her stone could be seen marked "E. U." in the Underhill Cemetery. Their children were: Deborah, b. Sept. 29, 1659, who m. Henry Townsend; Nathaniel, b. Dec. 22, 1663, m.

Mary Ferris; Hannah, b. Oct. 2, 1666, who m. Richard Alsop and became the progenator of the Alsop and King families; Elizabeth, b. May 2, 1669, m. Isaac Smith; David, b. Feb., 1672, m. Hannah, daughter of Moses Forman of Oyster Bay. All these births were recorded with the "Friends," and a copy of them made in 1685 by Isaac Horner is still preserved in the Fifteenth Street Meeting House, New York City. Capt. John wills everything to his wife Elizabeth, and makes his son John executor. Bolton's History of Westchester and the Journal of Gov. Winthrop give very full details of the life of Capt. John.

Seventh Generation.

JOHN, the eldest son of Capt. John and his wife Elenor, b. April 11, 1642, probably in Boston, d. Aug. 28, 1692; m. Aug. 11, 1668, at Oyster Bay, Mary, b. 1651, d. May 29, 1698, daughter of Matthew and Mary Pryer or Prier, of Oyster Bay. In 1678 John purchased a portion of land from and near his father-in-law, and moved there, leaving his fifteen-year-old brother Nathaniel in possession of the home place. Issue: John, b. May 1, 1670; Daniel, Samuel, Abraham and Jacob.

Seventh Generation.

NATHANIEL, son of Capt. John and wife Elizabeth, b. Dec. 22, 1663, d. in Westchester Nov. 27, 1775, where he had moved after selling out all his possessions on Long Island to Henry Franklin of Flushing, reserving, however, the family burial plot and a right of way to it. This deed was later avoided and the same property deeded to his brother John. The records of Oyster Bay give evidence that David, the youngest son of the family, in 1690 sold "rights of land" to William Frost, and in 1697, "now of age," the sale is confirmed. Nathaniel m. Dec., 1685, Mary Ferris. One of his descendants bearing his name was Mayor of White Plains during the Revolution, and, taking sides with the British, fled to Nova Scotia.

The above Underhill lines give the direct descent of all descendants of (3) Wright Frost, (60) Mordecai Frost, and (57) Jordan Frost from Capt. John Underhill and his parents.

HYATT FAMILY.

The compiler has not made a thorough study of this family, owing to the fact that Hyatt, Haight, Hoit, Hiat and several others all have a common origin, but some time was given to it in and around Yorktown, N. Y. They doubtless migrated there from White Plains, N. Y., and for the benefit of some one who may be interested, I will give the names of a few by the name of "Hyatt" (this spelling in which I alone am interested), who lie buried in the Presbyterian Church Yard in White Plains, N. Y.

THE FROST GENEALOGY

WILLIAM FROST OF FAIRFIELD, CONN.

WILLIAM FROST, according to Lechford's notes, came from Nottingham, England, for he mentions of meeting in 1638, in Boston, Mass., "his old acquaintance, Master Frost, sometime of Nottingham, England, with his sonnes, John and Henry Grey." William settled in Fairfield, Conn., as a very old man, and was evidently of good family, who from religious principles and perhaps to escape persecution, sought to end his days peacefully in New England. All his children were born in England, and all came to America except his daughter, Mary Rylie. Whom his wife was is not known.

"WILLIAM FROSTE his laste will and testament, wherein the said Wm. doth give and bequeth all his lands and goods now injoying, the 6th of January 1644

(30) JOSEPH, son of (24) Joseph and Adria (Couch) Frost, b. Aug. 25, 1726, bap. Nov. 13, 1726, d. Aug. 25, 1810; m. by the Rev. Noah Hobart at Fairfield, Conn., Oct. 19, 1747, Esther (Hester), daughter of John and Elizabeth (Wheeler) Dimon. She was b. May 11, 1728, and d. March 6, 1804. Joseph and his wife left Fairfield and settled in Redding, Conn., and in their old age sold their property there, and went with their son Joseph to the then western wilds of Tioga County, New York, now Schuyler County, where they purchased land and settled on Frost Hill, four miles from Havana, now Montour Falls. Both are buried in the Winton Burial Ground at Johnson's settlement, N. Y.

Their grandson, Col. Eli C. Frost, bought in their old home State, Connecticut, tombstones to mark their final resting place. When they left Connecticut that State had been settled as long as New York now has been and the deprivation and hardships were severely felt by these old people, who used to say they hoped the change would be a benefit to the coming generations, but for themselves it was a severe trial.

Esther Dimon was a descendant of John, who in 1637 m. Honor, daughter of Richard Treat. Their son, Jonathan, m. Sarah Graves Nov. 21, 1660, and their son Jonathan, b. Nov. 27, 1661, m. Abigail, daughter of Zerubel and Experience (Strong) Filer of Windsor, Conn., on Jan. 5, 1708. In 1685 he was a resident of Wethersfield, Conn., and his daughter m. Joseph Frost, b. 1726. In 1790 Joseph Frost was living in Redding, Conn., and is listed as having in his family three adults over sixteen years of age and one under, and also four females, but the following is the issue given by the descendants.

Issue:

+ (43a) Joseph; (44) Dimon; (45) Sarah, bap. March 13, 1748, d. 1824.

(32) GRISSEL, daughter of (24) Joseph and Adria (Couch) Frost, bap. Fairfield, Conn., Sept. 24, 1732; m. March 6, 1754. Benjamin, son of Benjamin Wynkoop, bap. April 9, 1782, who was drowned during the Revolutionary War.

Issue (Wynkoop):

(46) Abraham, b. May 12, 1755, said to have been lost during the Revolution; (47) Anne, b. Dec. 15, 1756; (48) Grissel, b. Aug. 12, 1760; (49) John, b. Feb. 24, 1763; (50) Benjamin, b. April 10, 1769, m. Hannah Wynkoop; (51) Gershom, d. 1831, m. Martha MeFarlan; (52) Peter, Captain of a vessel (?).

Seventh Generation.

(35) WILLIAM, son of (29) Jabez and Deborah (King ?) Frost, was b. in Fairfield, Conn., Dec. 20, 1749, bap. Dec. 24, 1749, and d. in Kingston, N. B., July 26, 1827. He m. in Fairfield, Conn., Sarah Schofield, b. there Dec. 29, 1754, d. Kingston, N. B., Jan. 24, 1816. They are both buried in Trinity Church Yard at Kingston. William, at the time of the Revolutionary War, was living in Stamford, Conn., and on account of his sympathies with the mother country was driven from there and took refuge on Long Island at Lloyd's Neck. On the night of July 21, 1781, he proceeded at the head of an armed party, crossed the Sound in seven boats, and with his party lay stealthily secreted in the vicinity of Stamford until the following afternoon, when they surprised and captured the Rev. Dr. Mather and his entire congregation, and the minister and forty-eight of his townsmen were marched off to boats in waiting and carried prisoners to Lloyd's Neck, Long Island. Here they found many of their lifelong neighbors, whom the war had transformed into active opponents. On a subsequent occasion Captain Frost paid a secret visit to his old home. He was eventually smuggled on board a schooner, concealed beneath some hay, and retired to British lines. The parents of his wife were not sympathizers with him. William and his wife finally set sail for Nova Scotia on the Two Sisters, and one month after their arrival there their daughter Hannah was born, being the second female child born of white parents in St. Johns.

EXTRACTS FROM A LETTER WRITTEN BY S. CAROLINE FROST, ST. JOHN'S, N. B., AUGUST, 1892.

"Sitting at the knee of my maternal grandmother, though she passed from the earth when I was but a child, I became pretty well posted in the affairs of her early life. Her maiden name was Newton, her home near Providence, R. I. My grandmother Frost's maiden name was Sarah Schofield, and they were from Connecticut, I think, though during the time the fifteen vessels bearing the Loyalists to this Province were collecting their passengers, they seemed to leave the ship at different stations and go ashore to visit friends, which looks as if they were familiar with the place.

"Her journal reads: 'Left Lloyd's Neck with my family May 25, 1783, then after many delays on account of head winds and taking on board of 250 more Loyalists,' she writes of the vessel 'lying in Harlem Creek,' and on the 28th of going ashore from the North River and visiting friends in New York. They visited at Major Hubbles', Raymonds', McKays', and other friends, in every case returning to the ship at night. On the 29th they left the ship again, spending the day with Partelows, Motts and Scofields, and there she learned that her sister Bates had been very ill, but she does not mention where she lived. On May 2nd she wrote they were still lying at anchor in the North River, not having orders to sail. She seems to have gone ashore every day to visit friends. On the 2nd of June her entry is: 'My husband went on shore in the morning and brought father to take breakfast. He came down the river, expecting to return by the same boat, but hearing of a boat coming from Stamford, he concluded to stay on board all day. I was very glad to hear from mother and my brothers and sisters.' On the 8th she wrote: 'Still lying at anchor in the North River, hope to sail to-morrow. We are likely to stay at Sandy Hook or Staten Island for some days.' Monday, the 9th, she wrote: 'Our women and children all on board, and there is great confusion.' On the 11th: 'We sailed to Staten Island, where I went on shore with Mr. and Mrs. Gorham and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond.' The 15th: 'Left Staten Island and came to anchor six miles from the lighthouse when we encountered a terrific thunder squall with hail stones like cannon balls. Mr. Frost gathered enough for each of us a glass of punch.' On the 16th: 'The Commodore has fired for all the ships to lie to, to await the Bridgewater, which for some reason lags behind; later the ship has come up, and our fleet are all in sight: thirteen ships, two brigs, one frigate and one commodore.' On the 17th: 'We are six and twenty miles from the lighthouse.' On 18th: 'One hundred and ten miles.' 19th: '250 miles from Sandy Hook.' 20th: '500 miles from the lighthouse.' They then began to experience the fog of this coast, fired guns and rang bells to keep together, as they could not see their fleet. 'Could not see a ship ten rods from us. We are about 140 miles from our destination, so Mr. Emslie says.' Then they were becalmed in the fog for some days. On the 26th: 'We begin to see land, have been nine days out of sight of it.' On the 27th: 'Entered the Bay of Fundy.' 28th: 'Our Captain fired for a pilot, who brought us safely to St. John's River. Mr. Frost went on shore in a whale boat and will return for me.' 30th of June they all embarked (dis) and her last entry reads: 'We are ordered to land to-morrow and not a shelter to go under.'

"The name William has been perpetuated as a name through all the later generations, but John is exceptional. I know of but one, the son of Samuel Frost, and he was called from a maternal uncle, John Hays.

"My little world is within the brick walls of an orphan asylum, and I cannot claim either ability or inclination to a generalist interest. I am sixty-four years of age, and have been twenty of those in this position and wedded to my work."

April 8, 1843, daughter of Jonathan and Eunice (Griffin) Couch, who were m. Aug. 15, 1759, in Redding, Conn. Joseph and Lucy are buried in the Lyon's burial ground at Catherine, N. Y. Joseph Frost was a Revolutionary soldier. The State records of Connecticut state he was a private in Col. Benjamin Hinman's regiment, from which he was honorably discharged Sept. 11, 1775. June 16, 1777, he enlisted as a private in Capt. Elijah Abel's company, Col. Burr Bradley's regiment. Although Connecticut records make no statement to that effect, he was also in service in 1776. He and his brother Dimon were made prisoners November, 1776, when Lord Howe captured Fort Washington. They were placed on board one of the old prison hulks in New York harbor, and Dimon died of starvation and ill treatment at Danbury. Joseph was wounded in one of his legs and late in life received a pension. A family legend is that Joseph was pilot of a boat that ran from Danbury to Bridgeport, and he once carried Benedict Arnold in his boat before he turned traitor; also during a battle with the British, Esther Frost and her three younger children, of whom I find no other record, took refuge in the woods on a hill near her home. Her husband and older sons were fighting in sight, and she could see the British through the trees. When the fighting was over, she returned home and found her house had been robbed and riddled with bullets. The British had stolen from a chest several silk dresses and linen stores, brought from France by her grandmother, who was a French woman.
